The 2021 Kia Sorento boasts a brash, rugged aesthetic that will appeal to all those with an adventurous spirit. However, this bold look for 2021 is coupled with new technologies under the hood that are meant to push the industry as a whole toward the future as well as bring Kia further in line with sustainable goals and efficiency-driven progress. This effectively brings the same advantages to the customer, helping them do their part for the environment without compromising on what it means to be a road enthusiast in the modern world. Their confidence will only be matched by Kia?s ? the manufacturer is ensuring that all powertrain options include a 10 year/100,000 mile limited warranty.

Naturally, all of this power and capability is complemented by a luxuriously comfortable interior that features reclining second-row captain?s chairs (which can slide forward for quick third-row access). These chairs can even fold over to buff the vehicle's already impressive cargo volume. As Kia themselves mention,

?3D-embossed genuine leather seat trim provides an inviting and cozy texture with quality stitching that can stand up to years of adventuring.? Learn more here: https://mgyb.co/s/nmKzy.

However, many of the 2021 Kia Sorento?s features need to be experienced in person to be believed, and this is why North Edmonton Kia is inviting their community to get in touch and find out how soon they may schedule a test drive of this incredible vehicle. Its innovative driver-assist functions and smart features, for instance, are among the top items any driver should check, and the dealership is eager to show off the 2021 Kia Sorento?s many strengths at every opportunity. Fortunately, North Edmonton Kia is widely regarded for their exceptional customer service.

One recent review explores the dealership?s qualities in some detail, explaining how the reviewer sought out a specific representative based on feedback left online by other customers. According to the review, this feedback proved to be on point in this case as well since they had an excellent experience looking over the vehicles they were interested in. North Edmonton Kia draws attention to this review and others like it, commenting that superior sales service is part of every representative?s duties. No matter who a customer has to assist them, the dealership makes it their foremost priority to ensure they have all the access and insight they need, courtesy of the representative available at the time.

Should new customers wish to follow the same advice, however, the dealership also states they are happy to accommodate such requests when possible. The review in question, left by a user who goes by ?Wings Over Canada,? states, ?I visited North Edmonton Kia to check out their 2020 vehicles and asked for Victor based on a glowing review by a satisfied customer who was very happy with his service. I was certainly not disappointed and would not hesitate to recommend Victor if you are looking to buy a Kia from this location. He was pleasant and personable and answered all my questions. Victor did not hesitate to go the extra mile to ensure that the sale went smoothly. He exceeded my expectations and it was a refreshing experience. I look forward to excellent service with my vehicle at North Edmonton Kia. Thank you, Victor!?

To prove North Edmonton Kia?s point, this representative is not the only one who receives high praise from customers. Another review, written by Donna Thorpe and which similarly holds a 5-Star rating, states, ?It was awesome dealing with sales representative Andre Therriault. A firm believer in God and knowledgeable about the types of vehicle I looked at. A gentle soul that is not pushy in trying to get you to purchase a vehicle but rather someone who sits with you and helps you decide what is best for your pocket but also profitable for the company and eventually himself. If you need a vehicle and you are not quite sure what you want or can afford to look him up, I assure you, you won't regret it. If you know what you are looking for, look him up as well. The atmosphere he presents will have you returning with family and friends for the deal of their life. Thank you, Andre, for the wonderful experience I had.?
