October 21, 2020 -

Buzz?s Bee Removal of Newnan is a new pest control company specializing in stinging pest extermination in Coweta County. They will treat infestations for any species of bee, wasp, or hornet. They just opened their new Newnan branch last week and have already helped a ton of people in need of their services. Their team has years of experience in the pest control industry and hours of professional training to make sure that they are prepared for any infestation they might be faced with.

Bees can cause a lot of damage to the building that they choose to build their hive on. The biggest problem is when they decide to build their hive inside the walls of a home or commercial building. Usually, people won?t notice this problem until the wall starts to bulge outwards or they hear a ton of bees buzzing in the wall. Other places that they might build their home are in the attic, basement, or around the vents of the home. If there is a honey bee infestation, their exterminators will use a non-lethal process to safely relocate them to a nearby beekeeper. There, they can continue pollinating and making honey.

Wasps are a bit more dangerous than bees because they can sting multiple times and are much more aggressive. They can also cause just as much damage to the structure that they are building their nest on or in. Wasps are territorIal creatures and will not hesitate to attack if they feel threatened. People with wasp infestations should contact Buzz?s Bee Removal immediately to quickly and affordably remove the problem, hassle-free.

The final service that they provide is hornet removal. Their hornet pest control services are extremely reliable and are necessary because hornets are just as, if not, more dangerous than wasps. Their stings can be fatal to some people who are allergic to the venom in their stingers. They also are more territorial than most species of wasps so they are more likely to attack the nearest person they see.

The president of the company talked about the services they offer, ?The services that we offer are fast, affordable, and reliable. We will completely remove any pests in the area and then will perform preventative measures to ensure that they don?t come back. We also offer routine checkups to guarantee that the target property is completely protected.?

Their team is on standby everyday and are ready to help answer any questions or concerns that potential customers might have. If anyone needs professional bee, wasp, or hornet removal, they should contact Buzz?s Bee Removal of Newnan today. They can be reached by phone or on their website at https://www.buzzsbeeremoval.com/service-areas/newnan-georgia/.
