Buzz?s Bee Removal of Tucker is a reliable pest control company in Tucker, Georgia. The company specializes in stinging insects like bees, wasps, and hornets. They have been helping local residents and business owners for a few years now and their services are known to be fast, affordable, and reliable. Their team of exterminators has years of experience in the pest control industry and have hours of professional training so that they are prepared for any infestation they might face.

On Monday the president of the company announced a merger deal with another smaller pest control company in the area. The smaller company has decided to stay unnamed for the time being. The merger deal states that Buzz?s Bee Removal will receive brand new utility vehicles, new pest control equipment, and one new team member. This will allow the company to help more people before by extending their service area and expanding their team.

The president said in an interview on Wednesday, ?I am excited to announce that we will be merging with another pest control company in the area. This merger will help us grow to a size bigger than we have ever been before. This will allow us to help more people and better protect our community. Our team will be getting all new equipment as well as new employees to help fight the pests in this area.?

The company has grown like crazy since they opened and the locals love their services. They completely remove any bees, wasps, or hornets from any property as well as the hive. Then, they will repair any damages that the stinging pests might have caused. If they are faced with a honey bee infestation, they will safely relocate the bees to a nearby beekeeper. There, they can continue to pollinate the environment and make more honey. This process is completely harmless to the bees.

Once the hive is completely removed, their team of exterminators will perform pest prevention methods in order to prevent the pests from coming back in the future. Bees, wasps, and hornets tend to return to their home and will start making a new hive if the old one is destroyed. Because of this, their team will completely sanitize and use eco-friendly pest sprays on the area so that the pests won?t have anything to do with that area again. Most pest control companies will skip this part which results in more infestations in the future.

Stinging pests can be very dangerous. Their stings are painful and the venom in their stingers can be fatal to some people who are allergic. Wasps and hornets are extremely territorial and will become aggressive if they feel threatened. Unlike bees, wasps and hornets can sting repeatedly so they pose a higher risk. If anyone needs stinging pest control help they should contact Buzz?s Bee Removal of Tucker today. Leave it to the professionals to get the job done the right way.
