November 09, 2020 -
Columbia County has had a large number of pest infestations this year. Luckily, the local residents and business owners are safe with Buzz?s Bee Removal of Evans. They are a local stinging pest control company who has been growing their service area very quickly over the years. They are always trying to grow in order to help as many people as possible.

This is why they decided to hire a new exterminator onto their team last week. Their new exterminator, Max, has years of experience in the pest control industry and regularly attends pest control workshops and seminars to stay up to date on the most advanced techniques and equipment for removing pests.

The head of human resources at Buzz?s Bee Removal welcomed the new exterminator to their team on Thursday, ?We are constantly trying to find new, qualified exterminators to help us better protect our local community and neighboring areas. Since we first opened, we have almost doubled our service area and team. We plan on continuing this growth into the future. Because of this goal, we have decided to hire a new team member. Please help me welcome Max. Max has been in the pest control industry for over seventeen years and has been professionally trained on how to treat every species of pest native to this area.?

Every year, pests are becoming more and more of a problem. The reason for this is because they are becoming more immune to everyday treatments like over the counter sprays and other DIY methods. These treatments usually only get rid of the pests people can see and not the pests that are hiding nearby. They also don?t repair any damages the pests might have caused nor do they properly sanitize the area to prevent the pests from returning in the future.

Sanitizing an infested property is a crucial step that most people skip. There are a lot of species of pests that like to return to their homes every year. The only way to prevent this is to properly clean and disinfect the infested area.

Buzz?s Bee Removal of Evans has received a ton of reviews online for their services. They offer professional and thorough extermination, restoration, and prevention solutions. If anyone in Columbia County is in need of professional pest control services they should contact Buzz?s Bee Removal right away. They can be reached by phone or on their website at www.buzzsbeeremoval.com.
