

August Stethoscope Sale Proved To Be Win-Win for Passionate Care LLC And Nurses Alike

September 08, 2015

September 08, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Valencia, California: Passionate Care LLC just announced that their August premium stethoscope sale was a hit with student nurses and new grads alike. As nursing schools across the country were getting ready to open their doors for a new semester, nursing students from different programs were keeping a step ahead of the pack by taking advantage of the discounted prices on the Passionate Care Premium Stethoscope.

Passionate Care offered nursing students and new grads a considerable discount on their Premium Stethoscope. The sale lasted through August and drew large crowds to Amazon where the sale was being held. The company lowered the sale price and then issued an Amazon coupon code for student nurses for an additional discount.

"It really was a win-win," stated Raul Meza, Co-Founder of Passionate Care LLC. "We have had doctors and Intensive Care nurses using our stethoscopes for some time now. By lowering the price for a limited time we leveled the playing field a bit. This placed our high end stethoscope in a price range that allowed student nurses and new grads to finally own a quality stethoscope early in their career."

Meza went on to say that the company was happy to have their stethoscopes in the hands of the next generation of nurses. Their Premium stethoscope comes with a quality bell, great sound, and soft flexible ear pieces for comfort and a great seal. Extra ear tips are also included for a smaller or larger fit.

?The nursing student coupon has expired, but we have decided to leave it at the lower sale price for a few weeks longer. We obviously want to keep the stethoscope as a premium stethoscope so we will not leave it at the lower price much longer than that.?
