Panama City, Fla. ? With a tough housing market, realtors and property managers are keener than ever to fill empty homes. Years of experience dictates that a first impression is key. CCS Floor Care understands the importance of a great first impression, especially when it comes to real estate. The expert flooring and carpet cleaners in Panama City, FL are advising those in the housing industry that an investment in professional floor cleaning services is an investment worth making.

CCS Floor Care understands that there is not just a single element that plays a part in making a carpeted room look dingy. Depending on the type of flooring, the amount of foot traffic, the age, and many more small details work together to create the unsightly view. Furthermore, under cared for flooring can create odors and trap allergens, reducing the air quality of a home. For heavily carpeted homes, deep cleaning and deodorizing is strongly encouraged to not only improve the air quality, but also extend the life of the carpet adding more value to the home.

For homes with tile, hardwood, or laminate flooring, CCS recommends utilizing a multilevel deep cleaning strategy. Dust and dirt collect in the tiny grooves between panels and in grout, eroding the grout and finish. Not only does this create an unsightly appearance but can cause long term damage and eventually lead to a replacement being necessary. As certified IIRC cleaning specialists, CCS Floor Care recommends utilizing the services of a professional tile and grout cleaning service to ensure that the flooring is carefully cleaned and preserved.

When it comes to realtors and property managers, it is CCS Floor Care?s goal to not only maintain the client?s professional image but to enhance it. Having been in the floor cleaning business since 1984, CCS Floor Care uses only the most advanced techniques and tools to bring carpets back to life.
