Suwanee, GA. ? Specialty Engraving Company is encouraging companies and teams to handle their award ceremonies a little differently this season. In light of the ongoing worldwide coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic still heavily affecting the United States, many awards ceremonies are being forced to look to new, innovative ways to continue on as scheduled while keeping safety in mind. The Suwanee awards store is offering its customers a safer alternative by consulting with organizers to encourage their community to look to Virtual Award Ceremonies instead.

Specialty Engraving Company starts by providing an extensive online catalog for customers to view and customize their products online from the safety of home. Additionally, the company is also offering shipping options that will allow customers to have awards shipped directly to the winner in time for the online event. Specialty Engraving Company can help determine the best time and way to ship awards so that the award arrives on time and in pristine condition.
