Clean Group?s Efficient Gym Cleaning Service Helps Local Sydney Gyms Stay Open

November 02, 2020

SYDNEY, NSW - November 02, 2020 -
Clean Group, a Sydney-based commercial cleaning agency, is providing curated cleaning and disinfection services to local gyms and health clubs, helping them stay open and safe during the pandemic. Clean Group is a homegrown cleaning business run and managed by a team of industry leaders. The company has over 20 years of experience in catering to the commercial cleaning needs of local businesses in and around Sydney. They perform cleaning of a variety of commercial premises, including gyms, offices, hospitals and care centres.

Gyms as well as their members are worried about their safety because of COVID-19. They need safety assurance before they can hit back the gym. And the best way to ensure the safety of gym members and the staff is to use the services of a qualified and expert gym cleaning company (https://goo.gl/maps/hWH8yFdLEcSTj73H9) like the Clean Group. Most of the gyms in the Sydney area had to temporarily shut their doors when the COVID-19 hit the world a few months back. Now, these businesses are looking to re-open and may need professional help with the safe cleaning of their premises.

Clean Group is one of the few cleaning companies that have already upgraded their approach to meet the latest, covid-proof cleaning standards. They are providing complete cleaning along with disinfection for commercial facilities like gyms and offices to help them maintain the safety of their staff, customers, etc. They are providing a specialised disinfection service called ?Defence Shield? that has been TGA-approved as effective in the cleaning of up to 99.99% of germs.

Suji Siv, owner and CEO of Clean Group, says, ?We are proud to be one of the first cleaning companies to use the Electrostatic sprayer application technology together with Zoono-71 Surface Sanitiser for the disinfection cleaning of commercial places. It?s the same disinfection method that is already used by many reputed business-houses, including Fortune-500 companies. We are committed to helping our local partners (gyms and other businesses) with their safe, covid cleaning needs with a 100% satisfaction guarantee.?

For the cleaning of sensitive places like gyms, hospitals and healthcare centres, Clean Group has a dedicated team of experienced cleaners who take all the precautions and use safety equipment like hazmat suits, gloves, masks, etc. to avoid cross-contamination. Also, their cleaners are provided with all the cutting-edge tools, technologies and resources required for a cleaning job. They only use eco-friendly, non-toxic solutions so as to keep the environment safe and protect the health of people around.

When cleaning a gym or similar property, they clean everything from floors to walls, windows, machines, carpets, doors, lifts, toilets, staircase and common areas. Besides, they also disinfect all the machines, toilet seats, light switches, lift buttons and other surfaces where germs/bacteria could be found. To avoid cross-contamination, they use color-coded cloths and scrubbers for the cleaning of different areas like kitchens and rooms. Clean Group?s defence shield technology is certified human-safe and can kill up to 99.99% of germs and viruses, including the COVID-19 virus when applied to an infected surface. The sanitiser solution, when spread on the surface using the electrostatic sprayer, wraps itself around the surface particles in order to kill the germs. It works best when left on the surface for at least 15-20 minutes.

Clean Group?s gym cleaning experts know the right approach to cleaning all types of healthcare facilities. When starting, they will first analyse the property for its cleaning needs and types of germs/bacteria. Accordingly, they will devise a plan for cleaning and disinfection for the desired results. They bring their own tools and resources, so the client need not worry about anything. They can just sit back and see while the cleaners do their job. And if not satisfied with the work, the client can always approach the Clean Group support team under their satisfaction guarantee.

Clean Group is a reputed name in Australia?s commercial cleaning market and has been providing services for more than 20 years. They have been rated 5-star by hundreds of their clients, with their gym cleaning services cited as exceptional, very good and brilliant.
