Southbury Plumbing & Heating, LLC, a full-service residential and commercial plumbing services company based in Southbury, Connecticut, offers the services of fully licensed, insured, and bonded plumbers in Southbury and neighboring areas. They want homeowners and business owners to know that they charge a flat rate fee for all of their work so that clients will never get surprised with any unexpected fees once the job has been completed. Their master plumbers have many years of experience and all of their services are satisfaction guaranteed. They can be called on anytime for any kind of plumbing emergency.

Miner Openshaw, a spokesperson for Southbury Plumbing & Heating, says, "We offer a variety of plumbing services for residential, commercial and industrial properties. Whether you are building your new dream home or a new office complex in Southbury, our plumbers' years of on-the-job experience and knowledge can help you select the right design for your new plumbing system. We only use brand-name quality parts with our installations to ensure your Southbury plumbing job is built to last."

Southbury Plumbing & Heating, LLC offers various kinds of plumbing services. These include the installation of water lines, well water holding pressure tanks, drains, water heaters, hydronic hot water heating systems, faucets, toilets, radiant heating systems, fixtures, hydro-air systems, sinks, geothermal heating and cooling systems, dishwashers, garbage disposals, showers, and more.

One of the most common services provided by the Southbury plumbers is 24/7 drain cleaning. This is essential because a drain or plumbing trap that is clogged up can make a bathroom shower, lavatory or bath tub useless. In the kitchen, the sink has to flow freely or it will become useless too. They believe that what distinguishes them from other plumbing services in the area is that most plumbers will not clean drains but they will do both drain cleaning and plumbing services.

For commercial establishments and homes with a septic system, people need to be careful with what they flush down the toilet or down the kitchen sink trap. Cooking oils, other organic or inorganic oils, and hair can cause irreparable damage to the septic drain fields, infiltrator soakaway systems, pre-cast leaching chambers, standard type concrete galley areas, and Elgen Mantis engineered leaching components. If a septic pipe gets clogged, people can rely on the master plumbers from Southbury Plumbing & Heating.

The professional plumbers can perform various kinds of plumbing repair. Some of the plumbing problems that they can provide a solution for include: constantly running toilet, broken floor seals, toilet repair, faucet repair, sewer repair, shower repair, and water heater repair. They can offer repair services for different types of systems, such as tank water heaters, water recirculating systems, tankless water heaters, and instant hot water dispensers.

They can also offer repair services for sump pumps. A sump pump is an electric pump that is located in the basement of a home or building for the purpose of pumping out water as a solution for basement flooding and leaking problems. The professionals from Southbury Plumbing & Heating can provide sump pump repair, sump pump maintenance, sump pump installation and replacement, and back-up sump pumps. They can provide: free written estimates; free inspection of current sump pump and waterproofing system; sump pump installation and replacement; basement sump pumps and crawl space sump pumps; and battery backup systems for added protection.

Another important service they can provide is for frozen pipes that are about to burst. The solution has to be provided before the water pipes break and cause property damage and interrupt business operations. The professionals from Southbury Plumbing & Heating have the most up-to-date specialty equipment for solving frozen pipe issues. They will find out the reason for the frozen pipes and make some recommendations on possible winterization alternatives.

Those who are looking for plumbing services in Southbury and surrounding areas may want to check out the Southbury Plumbing & Heating website, or contact them on the telephone or through email. Miner Openshaw adds, "check us out at our main Southbury Plumbing & Heating website!"
