

EPS announces Additional Services for Landscape Design in Coral Springs

November 05, 2020

Pembroke Pines, Florida - November 05, 2020 -
Florida based EPS (Empire Property Services) is proud to announce that the company has introduced additional landscaping design services. Why you should plan for your landscaping project In Coral Springs is really very simple. There is a very well-known saying that goes something along the lines of ?If you fail to plan, you plan to fail,? and EPS hopes that by providing this new service it will help property owners to plan their landscaping ideas properly and so prevent what can are very often costly mistakes.

EPS is a well-established company with many years of experience behind it when it comes to landscaping, tree care, lawn care, and lawn maintenance. The company has drawn upon its years of experience and has now launched its brand-new landscape design service to help Coral Springs property owners not only get the most out of their landscaping, but to do so without making any of the common mistakes that can set a project back.

Greg O'Connell, a spokesman for EPS, said, ?It always seems an easy job when a property owner first considers a landscaping project, but unfortunately it isn?t. There are so many aspects to be taken into consideration that often some expensive mistakes get made. Proper planning for your landscaping project In Coral Springs is essential, and we can help you flesh out those plans so that they can be brought to life without having to go back to the drawing board.?

Landscape architecture is slightly different as it is the art of planning and designing an outdoor area as a whole. There are two main areas of landscaping: hardscape installation and softscape. Most owners are familiar with landscaping as a term of course, but often do not know what hardscape and softscape refer to.

Hardscape refers to the physical structures on a property and this can include anything man made such as buildings, paths, driveways, rocks, decks, patios, water features, and so on. Basically, anything that is man-made and has a degree of permanence.

Softscape, on the other hand, refers to the plants and trees in a design. There are obviously many things to consider when choosing plants to be attractive in any light and at any time of the year. The designer would also plan, generally speaking, the look that they wanted to have, e.g. formal vs. relaxed and informal or natural.

In Florida, the natural climate is tropical and that has to be taken into consideration. Designers who are choosing plants to place outside would obviously not choose varieties that cannot tolerate the local environment. Mr. O?Connell went on to say, ?We are experts at sourcing plants and trees locally, and there?s simply no substitute for that when landscaping a property.?

Lillian Trent, a long-term client with EPS, said that she has always been appreciative of the work that the company has done for her. ?EPS has been my go-to contractor for lawn care for many years, but when I found out that they now did all types of landscape design too I jumped at the chance to work with them. The landscaping design they came up with for me was creative, and the work they did once I signed off on it was fast and efficient,? she said, ?and my place looks wonderful.?

Ms. Trent is not the only very satisfied EPS customer. The company has received many glowing reviews in the past and it has maintained its high standards and is still receiving rave reviews today. A recent five-star rating was received from ?Bryan C.,? He stated: ?When I called this company they came out and exceeded my expectations. I have recommended EPS to all of my friends. They are a one stop shop to meet all of your landscaping needs.?

Coming right on the heels of the company's announcement of a new customer service department, which can
