November 16, 2020 -
Great Land Investments, based in Las Vegas, NV, has announced that they are offering their assistance to landowners in Colorado in selling vacant land for sale. They are an investment firm that specializes in the buying and selling of land, especially in Colorado. They are particularly interested in Colorado land because the state offers a lot of exciting outdoor events, such as hunting and fishing, especially in places like Costilla County and San Luis.

There is the San Luis Lakes State Wildlife Area, which is suitable for fishing, hunting, and other wildlife-related recreational activities. This means that vacant land in San Luis, Colorado, would be attractive to people who would like to engage in hunting, fishing and similar activities. Aside from hunting and fishing, people can engage in boating, birding, camping, or wildlife viewing.

Meanwhile, Costilla County, Colorado, offers an ideal place for big game hunting. This is because the area has all kinds of wildlife, such as mountain lions, bears, antelope, and elk. And aside from the abundance of wildlife in the area, hunters can also expect to track game through sagebrush flats, pinyon, mountain habitats, and juniper rangeland.

Those planning to do some big game hunting in Costilla County should be prepared for the weather. Because of the snow, herds may get down fast from high elevation, and hunting can be difficult because the animals may run quickly to wide areas that are private land, and then to the Baca National Refuge or the Great Sand Dunes National Park.

Jason Rusk, general manager at Great Land Investments, says, ?For landowners in Colorado, we can sell your land fast. Simply fill out the online form on our website and we?ll take a look. We have property investment experts who will do their best to ensure that you?ll make informed decisions on the sale of your land. We are ready to pay cash for the land that we buy, and you can be assured that we will provide you a great deal for your land.?

Great Land Investments expects to sell land in Colorado quite easily because of the many benefits of the area for buyers. There is the ?Greenbelt? area in Sangre de Cristo Ranches that has more than 5,000 acres specifically set aside for hunting and recreational purposes. There is also the Trinchera Elk Herd in Game Management Unit 83, which is one of the biggest of its kind in the state, with an estimated population of 16,000 elk. Herds of deer, waterfowl and small game are also typically present in the greenbelt.

Deer hunting in San Luis Valley has also substantially improved because of the limit imposed on buck licenses. Hunters may also go after elk in Colorado although it will not include the excitement of going after animals in the challenging terrain. With the winter season approaching, the probability of success in elk hunting rises but the snow may cause some travelling and hunting difficulties.

For those who are interested in land for sale in Colorado, Great Land Investments has a large inventory of such land. These include 4.47 acres of land in Costilla County offering beautiful views for miles; 6.87 acres of land in Costilla County with easy access and beautiful views; 10 acres of land with beautiful views and peaceful atmosphere in San Luis; 5 acres of land in Costilla County; 5.56 acres of land in San Luis ideal for establishing a homestead; 5.78 acres of land in San Louis suitable for a countryside retreat; 0.48 acre property in Florissant; 0.6 acre property in Florissant; 5.56 acres of land in Costilla County with wide open spaces; 11.81 acres of land in Costilla County with wide open spaces; and 35.16 acres in San Luis near Sanchez Reservoir.
