Aid & Prep, a company specializing in preparation and emergency equipment based in Pasadena, CA, has announced the availability of their collapsible traffic cones in the Amazon marketplace. The are highly multi-functional cones, are designed to provide safety to drivers in emergency situations while being able to be easily stored and readily available when needed.

Brodie Vaughn from Aid & Prep says: "We are so excited about this product. Not only is it the perfect addition to your car safety kit, it has so many other uses as well. Customers have written to tell us that one day they used it on the side of the road while changing a flat tire and the next day it was used in the family soccer game in the park."

The main goal of the traffic safety cone is to offer increased safety. When a car breaks down, using a reflective cone will ensure other drivers are able to spot the broken down vehicle straight away. This will help to avoid roadside collisions, which are surprisingly common with disabled vehicles, especially on dark roadways.

Because the cones are collapsible, they can easily be kept in the trunk of a vehicle without taking up much space. They collapse with minor pressure pushing straight down on the top of the cone and fold to a 10 inch sqaure that is only two inches high. Because of their collapsible nature, they can even be carried in the smallest of cars.

The product can also be used in a variety of other ways. For instance, it can help to block off a driveway so that children are able to play safely. It can also be used in sports, as soccer cones or football cones. Some customers have mentioned using it in agility boot camp drills and dog agility training to name but a few. In addition, because it is a collapsible traffic cone, children or athletes will not get hurt if they were to trip and fall on them.

"We are launching new car safety products in the coming weeks," adds Brodie Vaughn. "Most kits have items to help fix the problem you face, but our items will also include an emphasis on being seen while you work on your vehicle. Safety first, always."
