The Dog's Bed Sound Sleep dog bed is an ideal puppy receiver bed, which makes the transition of the puppy to a new home much easier. This is due to the vegan fur of the dog bed that has been observed to provide the same warmth as the fur of the puppy?s mother. This ensures that the puppy will not miss the warmth of its mother, making it easier for the puppy to adapt to its new home. In addition, the unique dual-layer base mattress cushion design offers unmatched comfort. The top layer forms around the dog?s body, while the solid base pad provides support for the dog?s weight. Generously filled bolsters surround the dog making them feel secure while also offering a comfortable headrest.

Faye Vaughan, a spokesperson for the company, says, ?This dog bed satisfies the nesting instinct of dogs who tend to curl up when they sleep - high sides & long vegan fur pile hugs your dog?s body, reducing feelings of vulnerability & anxiety by inducing a sense of security & serenity. Improved sleep - soft texture, self-warming materials & superior body support reduces night pacing associated with anxiety, discomfort and cold.?

The Dog's Bed Sound Sleep dog bed was designed taking into consideration a dog?s natural instinct, which is to curl up when sleeping as a way to retain heat and be comfortable. Curling up may be traced from the habits of the dog?s wild ancestors who curled up when then slept as a way to protect their organs from any predators. This particular dog bed has high sides and a deep fur pile to provide the dog with the feeling that he or she is sleeping in some kind of a nest, which also satisfies its instinct and makes it feel secure. The self-warming and soft materials that have been used in manufacturing the bed have been observed to be effective in decreasing night pacing in dogs due to the cold, discomfort, and anxiety.

The Dog's Bed Sound Sleep dog bed have been made available in different sizes to allow the pet owner a dog bed that is just the right size for his or her pet. The small size bed that they offer has a diameter of 23 inches, the medium size bed has a diameter of 30 inches, the large bed has a diameter of 36 inches, the XL size bed has a diameter is 45 inches, and the XXL size bed has a diameter of 54 inches. At the present time, there is no other dog bed on the market that matches the XXL size of The Dog's Bed Sound Sleep dog bed.

This is a round-shaped dog bed to simulate a nest and satisfy the dog?s nesting instinct. It has 1.5-inch vegan fur and contours that can help in ensuring a comfortable sleep for the dog. This is a stylish dog bed, which means that it can also be used as a room accessory, providing style to the interior of the bedroom or lounge.

Dog owners who have already tried this dog bed have expressed their satisfaction and provided the product with highly positive rating. For example, Toni B. had given the product five stars and said, ?We purchased the 45 inch plush round dog bed. Upon arrival I was skeptical due to small packaging. It was shrink wrapped and turned out to be extremely large and some weight to it, after unpacking. Which I was hoping for, especially after paying $106 for this bed. The bed also has a zipper bottom, to remove and replace the stuffing while washing (I leave my stuffing inside while washing). I?m thinking I want to add a little extra stuffing to the base of the bed for extra comfort. We purchased this bed for our European Doberman Pinscher Pup, that?s about 85 lbs. now (8 months old). We?re thinking he?ll weigh between 110-120 lbs. as an adult male. Our 3 French Bulldogs can fit in the bed with Koa as well, so far, we?re happy with the bed. Hopefully it holds up for a long time.?
