PutskA, a popular manufacturer that sells their goods online, has stated that their Diaper Caddy is fast becoming the ultimate registry gift. The Diaper Caddy has proven to be very versatile because its segmented compartments allow it to be used for baby essentials storage, as an organizer, and even as a small item storage bin. Due to people recognizing this versatility, it?s an item that is now frequently being seen on gift registry lists such as those for baby showers, weddings, and toddler birthdays. Many people even stuff its multiple compartments with other gifts that fit the type of event it was purchased for. Those who are interested in this product as a registry gift can shop for PutskA Diaper Caddy on Amazon.

The company spokesperson, Lily Nathan, says, ?One thing that we notice with some of our products is that certain ones tend to become fashionable as gifts in ways that were unexpected. That definitely describes our popular Diaper Caddies. Sure, we expected them to be popular gifts for baby showers and other baby-related events, but we were pleasantly surprised to hear that they have become popular for several other types of events where gift registries are involved too. We designed this product to be versatile but our customers seem to have managed to find even more creative uses for it.?

Nathan went on to describe why they feel the Diaper Caddy is making its way onto so many gift registry lists. She stated that it all starts with how lightweight and portable the design is. It measures just 15?x9?x7?? and weighs only one pound. She says that makes it easy to take just about anywhere without much effort and it also easily fits in the middle of car bench seats, vehicle floor spaces, bassinet tables, and fold-down changing counters in retail stores. The company spokesperson says that it?s also made of extremely durable high quality felt material. The reinforced stitching on the carrying handles makes them extra strong and there is a protective rounded ribbon sewn onto the sides of every compartment to eliminate the risk of sharp edges. She added that its sturdy soft cloth material can even be safely washed by hand without the risk of ruining the Diaper Caddy. It also includes many different types of rearrangeable Velcro-secured compartments that can accommodate a wide variety of baby essentials or other items.

There are also other newborn and infant gifts that come included with it such as 2 pacifier clips and 2 organic cotton bandana drool bibs. Nathan stated that its neutral cover makes it suitable for both boy and girl babies too. She says that without a doubt, it?s a very practical gift no matter what type of registered event that it?s given for. Those who check Putska on FB can also see more detailed information about this product.

The company spokesperson added that so far, they are very pleased with the reviews that have been left on this product on Amazon. It?s a very highly rated product that has earned 4.8 out of a possible 5-stars with over 750 reviews being received on it. Verified purchaser Momma Shops TX wrote, ?I purchased this diaper caddy to send to my in-laws for when they babysit our son. It is very sturdy and not flimsy at all! There is plenty of room to put all of the things they will need when caring for him and it is easy to transport from room to room. After loading it with things to bring to them, I tested it to see if it would fit on a rolling cart that we have in the nursery. It fit perfectly! I will be buying an extra one to have at home now, too! Would also be really cute to buy as a shower gift and put other gifts inside!?

Nathan went on that the company has established an excellent reputation in the baby gift marketplace because they are known for making products that are made using non-toxic organic fabrics and by using materials that are also environmentally-friendly. Their products are also thought to be very chic & stylish and many are unisex.
