

Light Portal Technologies, LLC Introduces Meditation Chamber for Personal Transformation

September 09, 2015

September 09, 2015 -
TAMPA, Fla. ? Light Portal Technologies, maker of equipment for meditation and spiritual growth, announced today that it is introducing a new Light Portal meditation chamber. The Light Portal is a wooden chamber equipped with proprietary light and sound technology that enables a person to enjoy immersive, transformative personal meditation experiences. Light Portal users report increased self awareness, better work and athletic performance, and improvements in emotional well-being.

?The Light Portal is a breakthrough in the exploration of inner space,? said Douglas Cornell, President and inventor of Light Portal. ?It has taken years to perfect the formula for light, sound, rhythm and flows of energies that we built into the experience. The results can be astounding.?

The Light Portal can potentially transform an individual?s professional performance capabilities by immersing the user in a focused physical space, in isolation with sound, light and music tuned to the brain and body?s inner rhythms. The Light Portal allows the user to access previously unknown reservoirs of energy, stamina, talent and sensory awareness.

The company typically works with professional partners, such as corporate wellness centers, fitness spas and professional athletic training facilities that install a Light Portal for continued use by their clients. Clients approach the Light Portal in different ways, but the recommended process is for the user to experience a sequence of sessions in the Portal, each of which lasts approximately one hour. With four immersion sessions over a three day period, the user begins to see striking, long term change in his or her spiritual well being or professional performance capabilities.
