

New Deep Creek Lake Real Estate Home Sites Available

September 24, 2015

September 24, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Deep Creek Mountain Land Company in McHenry, Maryland, has announced the opening of their newest section of nicely wooded, golf-front, and mountain view homesites available for purchase at the only four season resort destination of the East Coast. With the real estate market currently in a better position than it has been in years, the company feels the time is right to announce the properties they have available for immediate sale.

Colin Hayden, Sales Manager for the land development company stated, "We have a new section of properties that are available, situated within walking distance from a number of year round recreational amenities." The land company currently has several homesites that they have determined to be ideal for constructing residential buildings, and offer easy accessibility to a variety of activities in the resort area. A lake, golf course, panoramic mountain views, and various other attractions are all within sight of these homesites, and the McHenry area is convenient to those working in Washington D.C. and Baltimore.

The features of this community include private entrances, paved roads leading into the properties, underground utilities, and homesite locations on the backend of the resort's golf course or properties offering panoramic mountain views. All infrastructure and amenities are complete, and properties have access to the Lodestone Golf Course with no membership fees. The company states that they have properties available located less than two miles from area attractions, such as golfing, boating, downhill skiing, ice fishing, and world class whitewater rafting. They offer financing with approved credit and an affordable down payment.

"It's just a beautiful place to lay down roots," states Mr. Hayden for Deep Creek Mountain. "The properties feature gorgeous mountain views for all seasons, and during the winter, ice skating, skiing, and other activities are available."

The Deep Creek Mountain Land Company boasts more than 100 years of collective real estate experience among their staff. The company has successfully completed more than 1,000 projects, encompassing hundreds of thousands of parcels of land, paying strict attention to regulations, geographic regions, environmental studies, and other factors that can affect living conditions for customers.

More about Deep Creek Mountain Land Company, including a list of the properties currently available in the McHenry area, can be seen on the company's official website at www.DiscoverDeepCreek.com.

###

For more information about Deep Creek Mountain Land Consultants, contact the company here: Deep Creek Mountain Land Consultants (301) 387-8100 info@deepcreekmountain.com 7790 Sang Run Rd McHenry, MD 21541

Deep Creek Mountain Land Consultants

Deep Creek Lake Land Consultants offer beautifully wooded homesites where you can spend your time snow-mobiling, ice fishing and more. In the Summer you'll enjoy golfing at the Lodestone Golf Course and prime boating, water skiing, and fishing.

Website: <http://discoverdeepcreek.com>

Email: info@deepcreekmountain.com

Phone: (301) 387-8100

