December 07, 2020

December 07, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Roswell, Georgia-based medical center Revitalize You MD is pleased to share that their Hormone Replacement Therapy is now available once more. The medical center has established themselves as a trusted provider of services that include IV Therapy, Botox, Weight Loss and Juvederm to Roswell and the surrounding areas.

Rachael Clark, a representative for Revitalize You MD, says, "People don't often want to face it, but the truth is that, as time passes, our body declines, and that process is accompanied by a reduction in the hormones that our body produces to keep as performing in top form. While it is true that this is a perfectly natural part of the ageing process, and there is nothing inherently wrong with it, we can actually tackle these problems head on thanks to modern advances in medical science. We can ensure that we remain perfectly healthy and functional as we age. HRT, or Hormone Replacement Therapy, is one of the most common methods we can use to deal with this issue."

Hormone replacement therapy is an effective treatment to relieve symptoms of menopause, for instance, as it replaces hormones that have otherwise decreased in production due to age. The main benefits of HRT are that it can reduce the symptoms of issues such as hot flashes, night sweats, mood swings, vaginal dryness/atrophy, foggy memory and even a reduced sex drive. While most of these symptoms often pass after a few years, they can still be very unpleasant, and undergoing HRT can help women get some relief. HRT can also prevent other problems, such as a weakening of the bones (also known as osteoporosis), which is more common after menopause.

As Revitalize You MD explains, most women can use HRT around their late 30s, which is when the symptoms of menopause first manifest. However, it is not just women who can benefit from hormone replacement therapy as even men can suffer from the decline in production of hormones. Around the time when men reach the ages of 40-55, they begin to experience a physiological phenomenon that is commonly referred to as Low-T ? a drop in their testosterone levels. In some cases, even young men in their 30s can experience this phenomenon, which is referred to as andropause. This can lead to reduced energy/increased fatigue, reduced strength and muscle mass, low sex drive/erectile dysfunction, lack of mental focus and more.

Issues caused by both menopause and andropause can be treated with hormone replacement therapy. At Revitalize You MD, both men and women can find HRT programs that will help them deal with hormonal imbalance and live a healthy life. Revitalize You MD is proud to say that all the programs they offer are uniquely tailored to the patients' specific set of circumstances and symptoms.

Revitalize You MD has earned their place as a reliable provider of these important services, as is made evident by their reviews. On the center's GMB listing, Revitalize You MD has a near perfect rating of 4.8 out of 5 Stars. In a recent 5-Star review, Amber Wix writes, "Found RYMD on Facebook and decided to get some Botox from them. Dr Lucy made me so happy! She understood my vision for the look I was trying to achieve, and I will [not] let anyone else touch my face. I'm now getting some microneedling procedures done from her, and my face looks better than ever. Love these ladies! Dr. Lucy, Rachael and Nurse Gee have me looking like a million dollars! My boyfriend is buying flowers again!"

In another review, Katherine Perkins states, "I'm in the nightclub business. Hangovers are something I live with. Revitalize You MD has the best vitamin IV to relieve my hangovers and [let me] have a successful work day. Me and my co-workers go in together, watch an episode of Wentworth on Netflix on their big 60" and have an early happy hour. I found out they offer Botox and lip fillers. Dr. Lucy is like a magician with those injections. They are family. Love you guys!"
