December 14, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The NJ Center For CoolSculpting would like to announce the availability of their CoolSculpting services, aimed primarily at reforming their patients' thighs. The New Jersey clinic offers a comprehensive line of aesthetic procedures designed to help patients look and feel their best. With a staff of board-certified doctors, certified aestheticians and licensed physician assistants, the NJ Center For CoolSculpting offers some of the best body contouring services in the country. The clinic performs hundreds of body contouring sessions every month, and New Jersey residents regularly visit the clinic with the expectation of obtaining great results.

CoolSculpting is a new and innovative way of getting rid of unwanted fat in certain areas. It involves freezing unwanted fat cells, which are then digested naturally by the body. This procedure has seen a sharp increase in popularity over the years due to the fact that the process is non-surgical, which makes it less invasive and ensures that no one has to deal with the painful inconvenience of recovery. The procedure is also very precise and can be used to target fat cells specifically. CoolSculpting is comparable to liposuction in terms of what it does but, unlike liposuction, there is no downtime when one opts for CoolSculpting. Assuming it is done by a qualified specialist with the knowledge and skills needed, CoolSculpting is completely safe and highly effective.

The New Jersey Center For CoolSculpting's staff is committed to providing the safest, most effective treatments. A representative of the CoolSculpting clinic says, "We are committed to providing clients with the safest, most effective customized aesthetic procedures, utilizing the latest advances in non-invasive cosmetic treatments and technologies. Within a peaceful, luxurious environment, you can choose from a wide array of services and products to enhance the appearance of your skin. For more information on skin care treatments, contact our New Jersey spa in Summit. A helpful representative is available to answer questions, or to assist you in scheduling an appointment with one of our talented specialists."

Unwanted or stubborn fat in certain areas can be very hard to get rid of without the help of a surgery or other similar treatments. CoolSculpting is designed to remove fat in specific places where one might normally have trouble losing weight. This includes the arms, belly, chin or bra area. Anyone struggling to remove fat in these areas (who also leads a healthy lifestyle and is already at or near their ideal weight) is a good candidate for CoolSculpting. The results are, in the words of many who have undertaken to receive the treatment, impressive and permanent.

A number of people have visited the CoolSculpting provider and found themselves completely satisfied with their experience. One patient, Lesley, says, "The treatment itself was not uncomfortable. Afterwards, I felt great. I didn't really notice anything for about 30 days. After day 30, until about a month later, I started noticing that my favorite jeans were not as tight anymore. I wasn't having to suck in to get them buttoned. And by that two month period after my CoolSculpting procedure, I was back in my favorite pants, and they felt great!"

Anne, another patient, says, "It's subtle at first, and then a month later you look and go, "Wow - It really did something!" It really moved the bar for me, and I'm feeling better about myself already. It feels so good to put on anything and know I look as good as I've ever looked. And I didn't say that or feel that when I was in my 20s, 30s and 40s."
