September 21, 2015 -
Rebel Child, a business based in Kwinana, Western Australia, is proud to announce that they will be presenting funky kids clothes at the Golden Days Vintage Market on September 26. The event, hosted by Felicity Gloom, will be held at the Rosemount Hotel in Perth. It will be an opportunity for the quirkier side of the retail industry to come together, and for customers to find some truly cool and funky items.

"The Golden Days Vintage Market is the perfect platform for us," says a representative from Rebel Child. "When we first started our company, we wanted to find clothes that broke away from the cutesy mold that is being forced on us by the fashion industry. We wanted to find unique, quirky and cool things that make kids look like the little rebels that they are. We feel this will be perfectly represented at the vintage market."

The event will be an opportunity for different stores to present and sell items, such as clothing, furniture, accessories, home wares, and collectibles. Rebel Child will also be using this as an opportunity to promote their fans. Whenever someone purchases an item of clothing through Rebel Child, they can become fans by posting a photograph of their children wearing the item. These are all presented on the website and will also be included during the event.

Customers who have purchased Rebel Child clothing from past events have all been overwhelmingly positive in their comments. "Bought a wicked onesie at the baby market," says Ashlee Miller. "It's great quality and way cooler than the stuff at the shops for the same price! So stoked!" Ashlee was asked to send them a fan photo and she quickly obliged.

Rebel Child focuses specifically on clothing for children aged 0 to 10. Additionally, they are more than happy to look for specific items for those who require them. Their line of products currently includes tees, shirts, long sleeve tees, bottoms, tank tops and singlets, dresses and skirts, hoodies and jumpers, cardigans and jackets, onesies, overalls, outfits, accessories, and bibs. Everything that is needed to dress up a child, in other words, is available.
