Ogden, UT -- Red Law provides local residents with affordable attorney services. The firm also has a free online legal library, where anyone can learn important details about their particular legal issues. Utah attorney Trevor Osborn and the firm's employees are committed to helping clients defend their rights within budget.

Red Law's areas of practice are criminal law, family law, personal injury, estate planning, and business law. Each section of the free, online legal library focuses on a particular law. The easy-to-use library includes a side menu with subtopics. Red Law attorneys authored the material for the library.

Several well-detailed articles and videos give clients clearer legal knowledge. For example, in Divorce and Family Law, clients can learn more about divorce, alimony, child support, and more. Criminal Law subtopics include constitutional and Miranda rights, drug crimes, homicide, and sentencing procedures. Clients can find out more about specific types of injuries in the Personal Injury Law section.

In the Estate Planning library section, clients can read about wills and living trusts. Finally, Business Law resources offer material about the pros and cons of different types of business entities.

The Red Law website also has a free report by Osborn, "Ten Questions to Consider Before Hiring a Utah Divorce Attorney." The report walks clients through the successful process of hiring the best possible attorney. Clients will also understand what to ask attorneys, and the disadvantages of hiring a "pitbull" lawyer. The report is immediately available for download.

To further assist clients with their legal concerns, Red Law has a blog that answers commonly asked questions. The featured posts are, "How to Calculate Child Support in a Utah Divorce?," "How to Modify Custody in Utah," and "Motion for Temporary Orders in Utah Divorce." The blog also has videos accompanying each post to give website visitors a better understanding of the matter at hand.

The free legal information is accessible not only on Red Law's website, but also through the firm's YouTube and Facebook pages. For a free legal consultation, call or stop by the office today.
