December 18, 2020 -

MoldStar Remediation, a water removal company located in Atlanta, GA, has received another five-star testimonial from a pleased client. MoldStar Remediation is owned and operated by Jeremy Shelton and, under his leadership, has quickly become one of the highest-reviewed water removal companies in Metro Atlanta. Shelton's experience in the indoor air quality space coupled with his industry-leading customer service makes MoldStar the first choice for real estate agents and homeowner's alike.

In the latest review the company received on its Google My Business profile, Jonathan Schell describes his experience with MoldStar Remediation "We had a massive water leak that caused mold. Jeremy did a great job with our mold remediation. MoldStar was knowledgeable and honest to work with, and they were easy to get in touch with all the way through our project. I would use them again but hope I don't have to!"

MoldStar Remediation is one of the few water removal companies in Atlanta that have a perfect 5-star rating. Reviews and testimonials from customers like Mr. Schell are as consistent as Shelton's attention to customers. In another testimonial the company received, customer Michelle Rivera had this to say, "This group did a great job with our mold remediation. They came out very quickly and were professional and easy to work with. They left everything done and cleaned up! I would recommend them!"

When asked his thoughts about MoldStar's regular reviews, Shelton had this to say, "the fact that our company receives such positive reviews on a regular basis means we're doing something right as a company. It's nice to know that we're helping people recover from life-altering circumstances.
