SYDNEY, NSW - December 28, 2020 -

Clean Group, a full-service commercial cleaning company based in Sydney (<https://goo.gl/maps/xscta5ScLRnMiPkB6>), is now offering all its premium office cleaning & commercial cleaning services at the best affordable rates to businesses throughout Sydney. Through its consistent delivery of world-class, on-time and guaranteed cleaning services for over two decades now, Clean Group has built a reputation as the most reliable cleaner in the region. Now, the company offers a complete range of affordable & professional commercial cleaning services for offices, malls, gyms, hospitals, retail stores, warehouses, schools and other types of properties in and around Sydney.

Even though Clean Group was officially established in 2018, the company founders have been active in the cleaning business since 1999 and have huge experience in the industry. Suji Siv, founder and CEO of Clean Group, has been managing cleaning businesses and teams for nearly 20 years and completely understands the cleaning needs of local businesses. He personally oversees the management and training of the company employees (cleaners) to ensure that they are trained to provide services to meet customer's expectations.

Established as an office cleaning agency in Sydney, Clean Group now provides a complete range of commercial cleaning services to businesses in Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane. As of now, it's providing services in more than 100 suburbs of Australia. This includes both routine cleaning and occasional cleaning of every type of commercial property.

"We are the best-choice cleaning company for hundreds of Sydney businesses who call us whenever they want cleaning of their offices and properties. They know they can count on us for always arriving on time and doing a great job of keeping their premises clean and well-maintained. Our cleaners are professionals with a minimum of two years of individual experience in commercial cleaning. Moreover, they are trained by the company officers in our safe & effective cleaning practices," said Suji Siv.

Clean Group is also famous for offering its complete range of commercial cleaning services in Sydney at really affordable prices. Most of their basic cleaning packages start with a few dollars and the price increases with the addition of services. For instance, the basic office cleaning service, which includes the cleaning of office floors, furniture, toilets, etc. can be availed at nominal prices from Clean Group. Also, their cleaners can offer customised cleaning based on the particular requirements of a project. For example, they can provide steam or dry carpet cleaning on a need basis. Also, their cleaners can be hired for the cleaning of kitchens in a restaurant or garden cleaning & maintenance in a strata building. Having an in-house team of 50+ full-time cleaners and large resources at their disposal enables Clean Group to cater to all kinds of big and small cleaning needs of their commercial clients. The formal education and training of cleaners are very crucial to achieve great results. Understanding that, Clean Group also runs a formal certification course, where cleaners are trained and certified in particular skills pertaining to the cleaning industry. In addition, the company holds public liability insurance and workers' compensation insurance, which ensures complete safety of its cleaners as well as guarantees protection of clients' belongings.

"We have a strict rule of using only eco-friendly and non-toxic solutions that are safe for the environment and for people. Our cleaners use microfiber cloths that are very effective in the cleaning of dust and germs and completely harmless for objects in an office. Also, we take very good care of keeping our cleaning practices up-to-date with the latest health & safety standards of regional authorities," Suji said.

Besides offering complete cleaning services to commercial premises in and around Sydney, Clean Group also offers help to non-profit and similar organisations such as churches and NDIS centers with their cleaning needs at affordable rates. Also, they are completely flexible to offer services on a daily, weekly or fortnightly basis and after, during or before business hours, as per the preferred schedule of clients. Other than that, the company offers carpet cleaning, strata cleaning, window cleaning, end of lease cleaning and after builders cleaning services in Sydney.

To start with, Clean Group professionals will perform an on-site inspection of a property in question, for free. Based on their analysis, they will create a customised cleaning plan and offer the best price quote to the client. Also, the company offers 100% satisfaction guarantee, which means the client can request a re-do, for free, if not satisfied with the work.

Businesses looking for a reliable & affordable commercial cleaning Sydney agency can call Clean Group for free consulting. Further information available on this article: <https://www.pressadvantage.com/story/37925-clean-group-shares-how-customers-may-find-professional-office-cleaners-in-sydney>
