

Local SEO Company Now Offers Free Google Leads

September 17, 2015

September 17, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Client Getter, a local SEO company in Denver, CO, is giving people the opportunity to get free leads from Google this month. The offer is for a limited time only and is on top of the free SEO audit that the company is already offering. Further information can be found at <http://www.clientgetter.com>.

"We want to offer businesses the opportunity to get free Google leads for one month only," says Nick Garren from Client Getter. "This will show them just how much we can help them with our overall services. Just like our free SEO report, there is no obligation to sign up to anything permanently. We simply ask potential clients to register their details on our website and we'll be ready to get started at giving them more leads."

The free SEO audit is also a very important tool. It allows businesses to see where they are now, how their competition is beating them, and what they can do to improve. Additionally, the report will show them what it could mean to them in terms of lead generation and, ultimately, profits, if they sign up for full services. The free Google leads service is essentially a taster of what people can expect if they sign up for the various range of services.

Client Getter offers a full range of SEO services to their clients. These include local SEO, Google maps listings, citations and branding, reputation protection and social optimization. Customers can decide to sign up for any or all of these services to boost their rankings. For Client Getter, the goal is to help their clients gain authority and dominate their niche in the online world.

"We are offering the free Google leads to show people the benefits that we can provide," adds Nick Garren. "We will show businesses not just how much we can achieve, but how quickly we can achieve them as well. We believe this is a testament to our overall quality of work."

To sign up for the free Google leads program, clients only have to navigate to Client Getter's website. Here, they will also be able to find further information on their services, including the free SEO audit.

###

For more information about Client Getter, contact the company here: Client Getter Nick Garren 720-545-8377 nickgarren@yahoo.com 800 Emerson Street, #304 Denver, CO 80218 "

Client Getter

Client Getter is a local SEO company that focuses on utilizing simple digital marketing strategies that provide our customers with an ROI on their digital advertising investment.

Website: <http://www.clientgetter.com>

Email: nickgarren@yahoo.com

Phone: 720-545-8377

Powered by PressAdvantage.com