TV HQ has recently added television mounting and overall home theater installation to their list of services. The home automation systems installation company in Atlanta, Georgia offers a full suite of home system service and installation for area residential customers who wish to create a theater like experience inside their homes. Tiffany Williams, spokesperson for TV HQ, stated, "We're pleased to be able to help area homeowners with all their home entertainment needs."

The company, which was originally a home alarm monitoring service of Atlanta, recently began adding television and home entertainment installation to their service lineup. Previously, they provided area homeowners with various home automation options that enabled security through surveillance and other means.

Now, they are offering TV wall mounting services that include surround sound design. The company offers more than 25 years of experience in the industry, claiming to offer the lowest rates in the region. "Homeowners don't have to worry about outrageous fees with us," states Tiffany Williams. "Not only do we offer affordable home theater options, we have the best customer service in the industry."

The company will provide flexible appointment times as part of their home theater creation services. They offer custom designs that work with homeowners who wish to create the theaters that will fit perfectly into their homes, budgets, and dreams. They can build cutting edge custom sized screens, and offer a number of other services to completely customize home theaters.

TV HQ has been providing home alarm systems and monitoring for a number of years. With a number of customers in this respect, they decided to branch out and offer experienced home theater creation as well. "Our technicians have experience in every aspect of theater design, and are willing to go that extra step to ensure that everything is perfect," says Tiffany Williams.

The company is now taking appointments for consultations for new theaters for their residential customers. The consultation includes specifics about the project, including the overall scope of design and a price quote.
