September 15, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mark's Painting Service, based in Portland, OR, is proud to announce that they are now offering a free, no-obligation estimate to all potential customers. The business prides itself in offering affordable solutions for both interior and exterior painting. "People often choose to paint their own homes because they want to save a few bucks," says Mark Myhre from Mark's Painting Service. "While this is understandable, it is unfortunate that they often discover later on that they have made several mistakes and that these can be costly to fix. We want to offer a service that is affordable for everybody and our free, no-obligation quotation is there to prove it."

Mark Myhre wants to instill trust in the company's customers. He understands that, for many people, having a stranger come inside their home can be a frightening experience. There are indeed many horror stories out there about shady characters using an interior painting Portland job as an excuse to get access to a home. To allay people's fears, he fully introduces himself on his website and he encourages anyone to contact him and get to know him better.

As a business, Mark's Painting Service has received a number of highly positive reviews. He has completed a range of interesting painting projects, including doors, full exteriors and even bird houses. This is something that has earned him many a positive Portland painters review. "Our house was actually said to be haunted," says one happy customer. "While spiritualists always tell us that doing building work makes a haunting worse, we haven't had any trouble since Mark completed painting the outside of the property. Now, our house looks like a home once again, and less like a haunted house that kids try to break into around Halloween."

All potential customers are encouraged to contact Mark as soon as possible for the free, no-obligation estimate on their painting service. No job is too big or too small, and his experience and credentials speak for themselves. It is for good reason that Mark is known as one of the most beloved painters on the West Coast.
