March 03, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Phoenix, Arizona-based D.I. Auto Care is reaching out to the community to bring attention to their high-quality door glass replacement services.

"Aside from being an eyesore, driving around the city with broken door glass is unsafe, inconvenient and something that you want to avoid," states Paul, a representative of D.I. Auto Care. He notes that, while most drivers tend to postpone the replacement of their door glass to avoid the inconvenience of going to the shop, the actual replacement process is rather simple and straightforward.

Paul says, "If you ask someone with a broken door glass why they have not fixed it, they will often say that it is a matter of not having enough time, or not having enough money. It makes sense, as they want to avoid losing a day's worth of work to have it fixed. Others simply say that they can not afford the repair, and while both are compelling arguments, the reality is that this process is very quick and affordable. You will undoubtedly end up saving time and money in the long-run, in addition to avoiding the hassle and inconvenience of having to drive around in these conditions."

According to Paul, a typical door glass replacement takes no longer than a few hours, usually being completed within a single afternoon or morning. He says, "If you really think about it, you would eventually waste more time making accommodations and DIY repairs that would barely allow you to drive around with a broken or missing door glass. In the end, it is better to take the time out of your schedule and get it fixed rather than wait and lose more of your valuable time over a longer period. This will give you peace of mind too, as you do not have to worry anymore about burglars breaking into your vehicle through your broken window. Either way, you want to get your passenger door glass replacement done as soon as possible."
