September 17, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

All Masters Plumbing, a business in Arlington, TX, has announced the addition of a new plumber, Paul Brannen, to their team. As can be seen on the company's website, <http://www.allmastersplumbing.com>, only the most trusted and highly trained plumbers can join the company. As such, it took them a long time to find someone who met all the necessary requirements. Now that he has been added to the team, they will be able to take on even more tasks in the Dallas and Fort Worth area.

"We are so happy to have added Paul Brannen to our team," says Bryan Barnes from All Masters Plumbing. "He meets all the necessary requirements in terms of experience, training, credentials and certification. We have also put him through rigorous tests to find out whether he really is good enough for our services. Being one of the most trusted plumbing companies in the Arlington and beyond area, we do not hire anybody without fully checking them out first. Brannen passed all the tests."

Paul Brannen has also listed his Texas Plumbing License Ref, which can be checked through the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners. This is the minimum requirement for a plumber to be able to work in this field. However, All Masters Plumbing expects much more from any of its contractors. As such, Brannen also had to demonstrate further expertise in specific elements of plumbing, so that he can confidently be sent to various jobs.

"I love the fact that I have been checked and checked again," says Paul Brannen. "These are the types of standards I personally believe in as well. The company has worked hard to be in good standing with the Plumbing Contractors Association and they have built up a significant reputation in Arlington and beyond, and they will clearly do anything to continue to deserve that reputation. I'm all for that and I am proud to now be a member of the team."

Brannen has already been sent on a number of different jobs. From customer reviews, he seems to be very trustworthy, good at his job, and friendly.
