Monaghan's Landscaping, a landscaper in Portland Oregon, has announced that they now offer completely free quotations on their work. As their portfolio has expanded, they have noticed numerous people asking them for details, but worrying about requesting a full quotation as they thought it may oblige them to have the service completed as well. The company wants to reassure everyone that their quotations are 100% free and no obligation at all.

"Of course, we hope that our quotation leads to a job for us," says Colette Ellis from Monaghan's Landscaping. "However, we do not expect our customers to guarantee this to us. We just feel that if they see what we can do for them, they will probably want us to get started straight away. We are committed to quality and customer care and are ready to take on any job."

The services offered by company are extensive and go beyond simply changing a few plants. Specifically, the company is also a retaining wall contractor in Portland Oregon. Their portfolio shows a number of examples of retaining walls they have completed and these show the tremendous variety of work that they are able to provide. In fact, this shows the tremendous vision the contractors have, something that has been picked up on by their clients.

"This company is stellar!" says Jamie. "The vision that Colette has for the design of a backyard is amazing. They suggested alternatives that I had not thought of and carried out the project at a very affordable price, quickly and efficiently. My backyard looks so inviting and I will definitely be entertaining here a lot, especially around the fire pit with the paver patio. The office staff is so very pleasant to talk with - all in all, this is the only landscaping company in my future!"

Finally, the company also offers sod lawn installation in Portland Oregon. They have also listed the ten biggest benefits of choosing sod lawn for those who want to have some grass on their property. A free, no obligation estimation on the cost of installing a sod lawn can also be provided.
