

Pickering Home Theater & Audio Now Offers Design And Installation

September 18, 2015

September 18, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pickering Home Theater & Audio, based in Winter Park, FL, has announced that they now offer their customers not just installation but also design of home theater and audio systems. They want to work closely with their individual clients in order to create something that meets their particular needs, including their budget.

"If someone is considering building a new home or remodeling an existing home then we are ready to work together," says John Pickering from Pickering Home Theater & Audio. "We have excellent relationships with interior designers, architects and more. This means that we can guarantee that each component will work well and that it will look beautifully as well."

The company is very well-known and respected for enabling everyday people to have high end home theaters in their properties. They have designed beautiful rooms where each piece of equipment is showcased, to modern rooms in which every piece of equipment is actually hidden. Customers have frequently said that they love how their needs are not just being met, but that they are being exceeded.

"Besides home theater and audio, our services also include smart home automation systems", adds John Pickering. "These include such things as lighting control, climate control, controlling energy systems and audio visual systems, and more. As an increasing number of devices are becoming online, we integrate these into our customers' homes."

Finally, the company also offers services for the true audio purists out there. High end speakers, amplifiers and turntables can be installed in music rooms or other rooms in a property at the request of clients. In fact, Pickering Home Theater & Audio offers not just high end digital and analog solutions, they even offer tube amps.

Putting together the three main services offered by the company - home theater, smart home automation and high end audio - the company feels they can truly meet everybody's needs in terms of building the home of the future. Additionally, once a project has been completed, a dedicated advisor will be available around the clock to answer any questions people may have. They will also enable them to add further features in the future if need be.

###

For more information about Pickering Home Theater & Audio, contact the company here: Pickering Home Theater & Audio John Pickering john@pickeringaudio.com "2211 Lee Rd Winter Park, FL 32789"

Pickering Home Theater & Audio

At Pickering Home Theater and Audio we design, install and service custom home theater systems, smart home automation systems, lighting control, and home security systems.

Website: <http://www.pickeringaudio.com/>

Email: john@pickeringaudio.com

Powered by PressAdvantage.com