February 01, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Petrelli Previtera, LLC, one of the country's top-rated family law firms focusing on divorce, is pleased to announce the opening of a new location in Pittsburgh, PA on the 31st floor of 1 PPG Place. This is Petrelli Previtera's fourth office in Pennsylvania and eleventh office in the U.S., extending the firm's reach to more families in need of legal guidance. The Pittsburgh office is now available for scheduling virtual appointments via petrellilaw.com or by phone at (412) 501-4630.

Along with the opening of the Pittsburgh divorce law office, the firm is welcoming attorney Rebecca Laniewski Sporar as an associate at the new location. Laniewski is from the Pittsburgh area and earned her law degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law. With offices in Pittsburgh, Doylestown, Norristown, and Philadelphia and eight attorneys licensed to practice in PA, Petrelli Previtera offers a robust team to help individuals and families move from chaos to clarity across the Commonwealth.

"There are many issues at play during divorce, and addressing each one will have a direct impact on our client's future," said attorney Thomas J. Petrelli, Jr., who will be serving as the managing partner at the Pittsburgh location. "We are here to help people end their marriages as successfully and efficiently and with as little stress as possible."

As every divorce is unique, the divorce lawyers at Petrelli Previtera aim to fully understand each client's specific goals and needs and to explore all available options to ensure the best possible resolution. "Some spouses can negotiate an out-of-court divorce agreement, while others must go to trial," Petrelli said. "No matter the situation, our divorce lawyers will determine the best strategy to obtain a great outcome and solve the complex issues of support, custody, and more."

The divorce lawyers at Petrelli Previtera are available for same-day initial consultations. Anyone can schedule an appointment through the firm's online system or by contacting the Pittsburgh office directly at (412) 501-4630. During this initial meeting, a variety of important issues will be discussed, including the division of property, custody and parental rights if applicable, the protection of assets, and spousal support.

The lawyers at Petrelli Previtera always ensure that property is divided fairly and that all income is disclosed and indicated in the spousal and child support agreements. They guide each client in every step of divorce, making the process as simple as possible.
