Dr Chetan Mathias, who operates a cosmetic dental clinic in Coventry, UK, is pleased to announce that his practice is offering Invisalign teeth straightening treatments. Those interested may want to schedule a free virtual consultation. Invisalign aligners, which are also known as clear aligners, are orthodontic devices that are nearly invisible and custom made for each patient. These are actually transparent plastic dental "braces" that are used to gradually move the teeth to their desired position. They are often preferred by patients, whether adults or teenagers, because they are almost invisible when worn over the teeth, which means they are not likely to attract attention. More about these Invisalign clear braces can be gleaned from <https://drchetanmathias.co.uk/services/invisalign-clear-braces-coventry/>.

Invisalign teeth straightening treatments have to be done by an experienced dentist or orthodontist, who will take a mould of the teeth of the patient. However, a more advanced cosmetic dental office, like the clinic of Dr Chetan Mathias, utilises a digital imaging system that creates a three-dimensional image of the patient's teeth by performing a digital teeth scan.

Meanwhile, a special computer software that was developed by Invisalign is used to recommend stages between the current and targeted teeth positions. Through inputs from the dentist, the software can be used to specify the set of Invisalign aligners that are custom-fitted for each stage of the treatment. Each aligner has to be worn by the patient for at least 20 hours a day for a period of about two weeks. The actual duration of the treatment will depend on how far the current positions of the teeth are to the desired positions.

Aside from the Invisalign clear braces treatment, Dr Chetan Mathias also offers other kinds of orthodontic treatments, such as metal braces, lingual braces, and ceramic braces. Metal braces are the traditional way of straightening teeth that are crooked, protruding, or over-crowded. But aside from the conventional metal braces, Dr Mathias, being a part of Verum Cosmetic Dentists, also offers both Damon Braces and 3M braces. 3M braces are stainless steel braces, which have earned a good reputation all over the world. Meanwhile, Damon Braces is also an innovative company that has developed braces designed to be discreet, easy to clean, and very comfortable.

Aside from offering Invisalign in Coventry, Dr Mathias also offers lingual braces, which are also designed to be virtually invisible. They are appropriate for people who have teeth overcrowdings, gaps between their teeth, or have a malocclusion or improper bite. They are like metal braces except that they are attached to the back of the teeth, instead of in front. This hides them from view and they are therefore suitable for people who feel conscious about wearing metal braces. All of the lingual braces provided by Dr Mathias are custom-fitted to fit the mouth of each patient and the patient will hardly notice they are there. This is because every bracket pad and body are designed to conform precisely with the patient's dental anatomy, ensuring optimal comfort.

Also provided by Dr Mathias are ceramic braces. These are often preferred by adult orthodontic patients because they are harder to notice compared to metal braces. This is because they are made from lustrous materials and the wires used may even be tooth-coloured. Furthermore, many people find ceramic braces to be more comfortable to wear compared to metal braces. This is because the materials used are not abrasive and they don't irritate the gums or the sides of the mouth. After wearing ceramic braces for a few weeks, most patients find that they no longer feel any discomfort or pain.

Meanwhile, aside from orthodontic treatments, Dr Mathias also offers other cosmetic dental treatments, such as single dental implants, implant supported dentures, zygomatic dental implants, full arch dental implants, bridges, veneers, crowns, endodontics, gum treatment, white fillings, single visit crown, teeth whitening, and cosmetic dentures.

Those who are interested in the Invisalign clear braces may want to check out the website of Dr Chetan Mathias or <https://www.verumcosmeticdentists.co.uk/invisalign>, or contact Dr Mathias on the telephone or through email. Dr Chetan Mathias? clinic is open from Monday to Friday, during regular clinic hours.
