January 21, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Belinda Ellsworth and Step into Success (<https://www.stepintosuccess.com/>) is a Michigan based, woman-owned company. They're working to help strengthen entrepreneurs with resources that teach them direct selling.

Belinda Ellsworth saw a bigger, brighter future for the world of planners for direct sellers after finding a huge gap in the industry. Direct sellers take note, her organization, Step into Success is building wealth for the industry, one planner at a time.

"I searched and searched for a special planner for our industry, for direct sellers like you and me. Even bought a few, planner after planner I bought. Guess what? There was nothing out there," says Belinda, founder of Step into Success.

"Because no standard planner ever came close to covering our needs as direct marketers! I always ended up with a huge mess of multiple planners, calendars, notebooks, and sticky notes everywhere!"

It became her mission to reduce the overwhelm and stress for our industry and find the solution.

"That's why I created the #1 Planner for Direct Sellers. And it's working. Really well. For direct sellers like you and me," she says.

Here are a few comments from other direct sellers how who are using the planner:

Susan Glynn Mule said, "I love my planner! I have my goals ready for January and guess what? Knowing I was preparing for January made me work my December harder! I am going to earn my first incentive trip as a result!"

Kara Bates said, "I got this for Christmas and I'm in love with it! It's amazing and I'm already getting myself organized for 2021. This is absolutely lovely and worth every penny!"

For those who would like to know more about the planner for direct sellers, be sure to check out their signature physical planner, today. Their website makes it easy to see their full list of programs, resources, courses, and more.
