Top Ohio Roof Repair Company Discusses When To Consider Replacing Your Roof In Their New Article

January 22, 2021

Akron, Ohio - January 22, 2021 -
TK Roofing and Gutters has released an article titled, ?5 Signs It's Time To Replace Your Roof.? The blog post identifies some of the common and uncommon signs that call for roof replacement while stressing the need to maintain the health of the roof. The Akron-based roofing company states the need for timely roof inspections to preserve a safe and protected home.

Roof replacement is more costly than a repair, states the article, warning that waiting too long could trigger the cycle of endless repairs and issues with mold, which could further expand the expenditure. The article shares 5 signs that every homeowner should be aware of to get their roof replaced in time by Ohio's best roof replacement company.

Peeling & curling shingles on the roof are the first sign that a roof is damaged and needs replacement, states the top roofer in Ohio. Asphalt shingles have a lifespan of 20-25 years and start to wear out as they reach the end of their life. Peeling or curling shingles are a sign that they are breaking down and need to be replaced. Most homeowners ignore this sign, and moisture gradually results in complete roof damage.

Broken or Missing Shingles is another sign that something is wrong with a roof. Extensive rain, wind, or snow can damage shingles. The Akron roof replacement contractor suggests checking the valleys of the roof to identify the extent of the damage. The best roof replacement company in Ohio can tell whether the roof needs to be repaired or replaced. With age, shingles start to loosen and fall off as pebble-like granules. This is a sign of an old roof that needs replacement.

?Once your shingles start to lose their granules, they aren't going to give you the protection that you need,? Daryl Gentry, owner of TK Roofing and Gutter, says. A leaky roof is an obvious sign of damage. Discoloration on the ceilings is another sign of moisture seeping into the roof. The Akron roofing contractor warns that this is a dangerous sign as the moisture can travel through insulation and the home?s internal wiring.

Ohio's top roof replacement company is experienced in handling such roofing problems. TK Roofing and Gutters identify a sagging roof as another sure sign of long-term water damage. The roofing contractor in Ohio advises checking the roofline for signs of a sagging roof, such as a dip or curve.

Timely roof inspection every 3 years can save homeowners from extended roofing problems in the future. The top Ohio roof replacement contractor recommends extending the roof inspection to the attic. Any sign of daylight, breeze, or draft in the attic indicates damage and requires a roof replacement.

Older roofs, advises TK Roofing and Gutters, should be inspected every two years to catch early signs of damage or leaks. Timely inspection is critical to the health of a roofing project.
