Englewood, CO based Rallye Coach Works (RCW) is pleased to announce that they have once again been voted Best Auto Body by online voting hub Vote For Us. Founded in 2008, RCW aims to provide high-quality service for every facet of automotive collision repair and customization.

Tony Martins, founder of Rallye Coach Works, has been in the auto body industry since the mid-1960s. Born in a family with an established business for quality paint, body, and imports, he already had first-hand knowledge and interest in the field. He also attained formal education and training in the same field, attended a vocational technical school with a four-year course in auto body repair and welding, and he has completed accredited certification courses in the industry. He was a proven natural from early on in his career, and he demonstrated this multiple times as he excelled over the decades.

Tony Martins founded Rallye Coach Works because of his desire to provide high-quality and independent auto body repairs and customizations customers can trust. He built a team of excellent professionals to help make RCW the best option for the customers? vehicle needs. This team is composed of Senior Technician Geoff Chappell, Body Technician and Fabricator Luke Sabey, Technician Brothers Eric and Dell Lovett, Painters Rich Groneman and William Peter Cooper, Parts Manager Fred Martins and Office Managers Jonathan Lane and Janet Cheever.

There are a number of reasons that set Rallye Coach Works apart from other auto body repair shops. First and foremost, they only use quality materials for all collision repair and restoration jobs that they work on. They also have a team of professional car experts and trained technicians who ensure quality workmanship. Last but not least, they offer excellent customer support and expert auto repair services at affordable rates.

With their high quality and value-for-money centered services, Rallye Coach Works has established a stellar reputation in the world of auto body repairs, which in turn brought them to the attention of a famous online hub voting called Vote For Us. Vote For Us is the hub for the most popular review sites on the planet. The platform was created and meant to be a motivating force to all customers to fully and continuously support aspiring entrepreneurs and businesses they like.

This year, Vote For Us has given Rallye Coach Works the well-deserved award of Best Auto Body, an award they also previously received. In addition, Rallye Coach Works continue to receive glowing reviews for their auto body services.

Lisa Hix says in a 5-Star Google review, ?Customer service is the best! I spent 20 years in the body shop business before relocating here. I am well aware of all the things that can and do go wrong in this industry. So, I was very nervous to find a new shop. Tony and Jonathan were professional and helpful throughout the entire process. They handled all the issues that came up with my insurance company and rental car. My car looks great after the repairs. They even detailed my car inside and out. This was not something that was included in the repairs. It just shows the level of detail and care and pride they give to their work. I would 100% recommend them, and I will definitely use them again, if needed.?

Meanwhile, the Littleton School of Music states in another glowing Google review, ?Our staff uses Rallye Coach Works for our auto body repair work. They do a great job and leave your car looking brand new. But perhaps the most impressive thing they do is help with insurance. A recent employee left a car there, and the staff at Rallye Coach Works arranged for a rental car, rides to the rental car place, and dealt exclusively with the insurance companies to help with the accident claim. Way to go, guys!?
