Elite Tax Planning LLC, a financial services company in Virginia, is offering high-quality business consulting services. The company offers services such as tax planning, CFO services, and tax preparation.

Tax planning is the thorough analysis of a client's financial dealings to figuring out the ways of minimizing the total amount of tax due. The goal is to be tax-efficient so that a business pays only as much as they need to. This ensures survival for a long time as taxes can be one of the largest expenses for a business. Once an efficient tax plan is put in place, the money saved can be better utilized in other avenues of the business that promote growth. The company says its tax planning strategies are designed to complement and reinforce the business's overall financial blueprint.

CFO services are an attempt to give fledgling startups the expertise to make better financial decisions. Small companies are focused on growth and may not have the forward-thinking financial leadership required to sustain for a long time. The founders of such companies may lack certain skills in handling finances that can only be accrued over a lifetime of experiences. CFO services fill the need of providing formal financial guidance and mentorship to businesses that lack such knowledge. The company says that its CFO services make good use of accounting data to help their clients develop budgets, make financial projections, and strategic plans to grow, and eventually, if they choose to, sell their business. Further details about this service can be found on the company's Facebook page.

Tax preparation services are focused on helping companies fill out their tax return with as much accuracy as possible. The tax code is complicated and is constantly being updated. It takes a dedicated team to comb through a business's books and prepare tax returns that correctly represents the company's finances. Even filing a simple tax return can lead to many unanswered questions. The biggest missed pitfall is potentially missing out on valuable credits and deductions that a business is entitled to just due to poor working knowledge of the tax code. Elite Tax Planning LLC says that its tax preparation services will help companies file accurate tax returns every time.

The company's founder and CEO Greg Bourque says, "We understand it can be difficult to navigate the tricky rules and regulations surrounding a business's finances. We stay up to date with the tax law and are always searching for the information that will give our clients that extra edge in today's cutthroat business landscape. We treat all of our clients' businesses as if they were our own. We care about the goals that our clients hope to achieve and we do our best to help them achieve those goals. Our team of professionals will spend time listening to you and try to understand the ins and outs of your business operations. It is this dedication and obsession with getting all the details right that compels our clients to keep coming back to us."

The company is veteran-owned. It provides tax savings through advanced tax strategies for physicians, dentists, and IT contractors. It applies seasoned tax strategies combined with holistic tax planning to save its clients money and reduce their tax liability. The team has over 50 years of experience in tax and accounting. The company works with a nationwide network of tax attorneys, CPA's, EA's, and financial advisors to develop tax reduction and wealth creation strategies.

A review of the firm's services on its GMB listing by Roxanne Rivers says, "I think tax planning and preparation would be hell on earth without Elite Tax Planning. My friend had recommended them, and that was one of the best business choices I had ever made. I'm not even exaggerating."
