Ethos Spa Offers CO2 Laser Skin Resurfacing Services for Acne Scarring and Hyperpigmentation in Summit NJ

February 04, 2021

February 04, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Ethos Spa, Skin and Laser Center, which is based in Summit, NJ, is offering CO2 laser skin resurfacing treatments for the removal of acne scars and hyperpigmentation. And the best candidates for acne scar removal are people with no active acne and have fair and smooth skin. The skin resurfacing is done by focusing concentrated light on the scar tissue, which causes it to break up, while also stimulating the body to grow healthy skin cells that will be used to take the place of the broken scar tissue. It should be noted, however, that if there are excessive acne scars, some may remain although not as obvious as before.

The acne scar and hyperpigmentation removal service offered by Ethos Spa makes use of a carbon dioxide laser. It is used to perform ablative resurfacing, which results in the total removal of the top layer of the scarred skin. Thus, it is the most thorough laser treatment possible and patients can expect anywhere from three to 10 days for the redness of the skin to subside and for the skin to completely heal. There are some side effects but these will depend on several factors, such as the number of treatments used, the type of laser, and the patient's skin type. The usual side effects include swelling, redness, and slight pain at the specific area of treatment. The pain may only last for one to two hours but the swelling and redness may linger for up to 10 days after treatment. Those who would like to know more about the laser skin resurfacing and other services offered at Ethos Spa may want to follow their Facebook page.

Hardik Soni, Medical Director of Ethos Spa, Skin and Laser Center, says, "Are you a good candidate for laser treatment for your acne scars? Let our team at Ethos Spa decide and see how we can help. We have treated countless patients with our world-class laser equipment, and we can help make your acne scars a thing of the past. Many of our clients have been extremely impressed with their results and have expressed their deep satisfaction by giving us five-star reviews. In fact, we have an overall rating of 4.8 on Google."

Other services offered at Ethos Spa include Botox, laser hair removal, CoolSculpting, lip injections, Brazilian butt lift, tattoo removal, and other services. Botox is a popular treatment that makes use of Botulinum toxin that allows the facial muscles and muscles in other parts of the body to relax. This allows the elimination of wrinkles, unwanted fine lines, crow's feet and more, resulting in a smooth and soft skin. Botox may be used for acne management, to decrease excessive sweating, for chin and jawline softening, for twitching eye treatment, for neck smoothening, for lip lifts, for nose job similarities, to treat migraines, and more.

They can also provide laser hair removal to get rid of unwanted hair. This allows both men and women to avoid the inconveniences and disadvantages of tweezers, razors, and hot wax, while avoiding rough stubble, irritated skin, ingrown hairs, and a number of nicks and cuts.

Meanwhile, Ethos Spa also offers CoolSculpting, which is a revolutionary method for body contouring. It works by freezing and killing the fat cells under the skin. These dead fat cells are naturally eliminated by the body during a course of several months, providing a slimmer and leaner body with less fat. This is because the procedure can permanently eliminate up to 25 percent of the fat cells in the treated area.
