New roofing probably is not the first thing that comes to mind when thinking about home improvements that increase home value. However, research has shown that having a new roofing installed can have a big impact on home values, specifically on home resale value. New roofing provides the opportunity to cut cooling costs while improving curb appeal as well. Homeowners would be wise however to have their current roofing system inspected before deciding if a new roof is even necessary.

A benefit of working with a company such as Roof Works of Toms River is they offer a free 21-point roofing inspection. This inspection includes looking for signs of hail damage, storm damage, wind damage, leak spots, moisture growth, algae, nail pops, flashing and other problematic areas on roofs. Allowing roofing professionals to not only walk them through the claims process, but to also be the ones to climb on the rooftop to complete the inspection allows the homeowner to remain safe on the ground out of harm?s way.
