Regional Contractor Roof Royale Announces New Roof Repair College Station Location

February 10, 2021

Hutto, Texas - February 10, 2021 -
Well regarded roofing company Roof Royale has announced it is expanding into the College Station area. Owner Tony Schlessinger said, ?We are glad to be moving our operations further into the College Station area. As our reputation for good work has continued to grow, we have been able to extend our operations into new places.?

The company has a website located at https://austinroofroyale.com/college-station-roofing-contractors/ which is not only about the work of Roof Royale itself but also helpful information for the community about roofing in general. There is a free roofing blog on the site that will give homeowners a considerable number of tips and things to think about as they are making decisions about replacing or repairing a roof.

?The last thing in the world we would want to do is to try to sell someone something that they don?t need,? said Jane Neese, an administrative assistant for the company. ?It?s simply not the way that we do business ? and it would destroy our reputation. So if the blog helps someone realize that they may not need a particular service or aspect of a roof, that helps all concerned,? she said. ?And that is why it was written and published.?

Based in Hutto, Texas, the roofing company has not only established satisfied customers and created more jobs for the local area, but it has also garnered many glowing reviews along the way. These can be seen on Yelp and on Google.

For example, one recent client wrote ?We used their services after Hurricane Harvey. (They were) very professional, friendly, and courteous. They were on time, every time, and explained clearly what needed to be done and why. The work was completed on schedule. Wouldn't hesitate to use their services again.?

?We are a veteran-owned business,? Mr. Schlessinger added. "That plus our commitment to customer satisfaction does make for a lot of camaraderie and friendship. We are looking forward to getting to know more folks in the College Station area,? he continued.

Roof Royale can work with any type of roofing ? business or residential. They have many years of combined experience. Members of the team have operated in and around Austin for years, as well as areas such as Pflugerville, Round Rock, Georgetown, and Hutto.

The company states that it uses the best-regarded and leading roofing brands such as GAF, Owens-Corning, Arrow Line, Tamko, Atlas, and more. ?I wouldn?t use a material on someone?s roof that I am not willing to put on my own,? Schlessinger said.

Tess Thomas said that Roof Royale helped her family out tremendously as they were rebuilding from tornado damage. ?They understood that it wasn?t ?just? a roof,? she said. ?The guys at Roof Royale knew that we were dealing with a lot emotionally and mentally because of the storm and losing a large part of our belongings. We weren?t treated like strangers or as ?just a number.? They were great, and I would use them again in a heartbeat,? she said.

The company is a proud owner of a BBB A+ accreditation, a ?Home Advisor, screened and approved? provider, among other industry accolades.

Roof Royale works with literally all kinds of roofing, from the tried and true asphalt shingles to thermoplastic olefin, slate roofing, or Modified Bitumen. ?We basically do it all,? Ms.Neese said.

The company is also very experienced in dealing with roof warranties. Formal guarantees and warranties are vital in the roofing industry. Visitors can learn more about what is offered from Roofing Royale?s website.

Mr. Schlessinger said, ?Probably what is most important about us is the fact that we actually care. We care about our clients, we care about the environments, and we care about our teammates. We are looking forward to becoming more a part of the College Station community. We truly believe that?s the only way to run a business.?
