February 25, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Seattle, Wash.- Raymark Plumbing & Sewer in Seattle is looking for mechanically minded, hardworking, and friendly candidates for their open Plumbing Apprenticeship roles. Raymark's plumbing apprenticeships are paid positions that offer candidates valuable industry skills. Apprentices partner with a certified plumber and learn on the job. With commitment, the apprentice can obtain the plumbing skills and local code knowledge needed to become a certified plumber in Seattle.

The plumbing apprenticeship positions are excellent for those who are just graduating from high school or those currently in college who would like to learn a trade. Apprentices work full time and ?graduate? without college debt. Plus, plumbing is a skilled trade that can be transferred anywhere in the world. In addition, the apprentices receive a variety of benefits including paid vacation, paid holidays, a retirement fund, and more.

?A certified plumber?s salary ranges from $80,000 to $150,000 annually. Moreover, Raymark?s work environment is multicultural, multigenerational, respectful, and friendly with a team-oriented attitude. Raymark does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, gender expression, age, national origin (ancestry), disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or military status. They are committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming work environment.

Those interested in a plumbing apprenticeship position can email Raymark via the online Contact Us page on their website. Interested candidates should include a summary of themselves, their interests, and why they would like to work at Raymark.

In business for over 42 years, Raymark Plumbing & Sewer has a tradition of excellence in the Seattle community.
