

I Love Who I am Again Los Angeles Woman Thanks Muse Addiction Treatment Center for Helping Her Turn Her Life Around

March 01, 2021

LOS ANGELES, CA - March 01, 2021 -

Los Angeles, CA ? Once discouraged and fearful that she would never take control of her addiction, Amanda, a resident of Los Angeles, found the help she needed at Muse Treatment. She was so grateful for her experience that she left the alcohol and drug rehab a 5-star review on Google.

?I knew I was in safe hands the minute I walked in the door,? Amanda wrote. ?I didn?t want for anything. All my needs were met. I am so grateful for a lot of the staff. They too have been there, done that, and they?ll show you the way. Muse has a good structure. You are surrounded by lots of love and recovery.?

A long-time addict, Amanda held on to hope one more time when she reached out to Muse Treatment in Los Angeles. Read the blog article about why Amanda thinks that Muse Treatment is the #1 addiction treatment center in Los Angeles.

?I knew quitting on my own wasn?t an option. I was a complete mess when I checked into detox at muse treatment. I was emotionally, physically, and spiritually sick.?

Fortunately for Amanda, she found immediate acceptance and support. Recovery wasn?t always easy, but she refused to give up ? and the staff at Muse wouldn?t let her.

?Multiple times my addiction was telling me to leave and go get high but I couldn?t because each and every day I was taught something new at this program and I didn?t wanna give up. I didn?t know how much fun it would be turning my life around. These people care more about you than you care about yourself. They will love you so much until you love yourself.?

Amanda enthusiastically praised the staff at Muse, whose care and compassion is a key element of the program?s success. Empathy and understanding are especially important because of the customized treatment program they deliver.

Muse offers treatment for a variety of substance use disorders, from alcoholism to addiction to heroin and opioids. All of these conditions may be accompanied by underlying emotional and physical disorders such as abuse or other traumas. Treatment integrates multiple modalities tailored to the individual needs of each client. Along with traditional group and individual therapy, tools and strategies include the neural recovery program, which uses neurofeedback and advanced cognitive training to help individuals recover lost aspects of emotional and cognitive regulation.

Muse used many tools and resources to help Amanda, who was excited to share her success with others in need.

?I can?t speak highly enough about what I just went through at Muse. If you are reading this and you think you ain?t worth it or you can manage the detox or you?re afraid or anything . . . This is the place. I was that person. I?m not anymore. I didn?t wake up dope-sick today. I can actually say I love who I am again.?

Anyone who needs treatment for addiction, please contact Muse. They are available 24/7 and can help find the right treatment program for one's needs. Call 800-426-1818.
