As a practice, Wellnest Acupuncture Denver aims to mainstream Eastern medicine and provide help to those in need of guidance, relaxation and balance in life. The clinic firmly believes that there are natural ways to heal the body without patients having to undergo invasive operations and taking strong medications.

The clinic is owned and established by Garryn Skurulsky, a duly licensed and board certified acupuncturist and herbalist in Colorado and California. She received her masters in Traditional Chinese Medicine from Five Branches University in San Jose, California. In addition to Eastern and Chinese medicine, she also specializes in treating conditions like insomnia, anxiety, fertility issues in women and more. She also has years of experience in offering alternative medical services related to nutrition and pain management.

Garryn's years of experience in the field of alternative medicine developed her strong belief in the body's power to heal itself. As a result, she does her best to educate her patients on proper health maintenance and lifestyle choices for a longer and happier life.

Wellnest Acupuncture Denver's main service is Eastern medicine but they also offer a wide range of alternative medical treatments and health programs. More information can be viewed here: https://www.wellnestdenver.com/what-we-do/.

For instance, Wellnest Acupuncture Denver offers Acupuncture + Holistic Services. Acupuncture stimulates specific points on the body to promote blood circulation. It resuscitates the body's immune system and natural healing response. It also helps to relax the patient's mind and, at the same time, restore the body's strength and balance.

Acupuncture + Fertility services are also being offered at Wellnest Acupuncture Denver. To help women address their fertility issues, the clinic uses a combination of Acupuncture and Chinese medicine. Both are believed to be effective at balancing the menstrual cycle and hormones, optimizing the chances for a couple to conceive a healthy baby.

Next is Facial Acupuncture. Also known as cosmetic acupuncture or facial rejuvenation, this is a non-surgical procedure that reduces signs of aging. This increases the collagen and elastin production in the dermis, further restoring the skin's smoothness and elasticity.

Another service offered at Wellnest Acupuncture Denver is Acupuncture for Pain Management. Instead of prescribing strong painkillers and medications, they use acupuncture and cupping techniques for treating acute and chronic pain experienced by patients.

Wellnest Acupuncture Denver also provides Acupuncture for Anxiety, Stress and Depression. It restores the patient's energy levels and helps reduce feelings of stress or depression. The clinic believes that acupuncture can help to relax the mind and significantly improve ones emotional state.

Acupuncture for Women's Health is also being offered at Wellnest Acupuncture Denver. Women undergo physical pain more often due to menstruation, menopause and stress. For over 2,000 years, Chinese herbs and medicine have been treating and regulating menstrual hormonal imbalances. On top of that, acupuncture is a gentle and natural way to manage symptoms associated with menstrual disturbances and. menopause.

Other services offered at Wellnest Acupuncture include Acupuncture for Insomnia (to help people sleep better) and Acupuncture for Digestion (to promote a healthy digestive system). Wellnest Acupuncture Denver has received glowing reviews for their services.

Maria says in a 5-Star Google review, "I feel so grateful to have found Garryn! She is an incredible practitioner her needling is gentle and highly effective, she has prescribed herbs for me that have solved a variety of different ailments, and most importantly, she is a wonderful and empathetic listener. I had never been in a health/wellness setting where I never felt rushed, felt heard and that someone genuinely cared about my well-being until I found Wellnest. You will not regret seeing her for your wellness needs!"
