AirWorks Cooling & Heating has been meeting and exceeding the HVAC needs of those in Mecklenburg County and nearby areas since 2003. They are among the most sought-after HVAC Companies Charlotte NC because of their dedication to their craft and excellent customer service. But there is much more to this reputable HVAC service provider than just that. This company is also known for the large variety of innovative and efficient heating and cooling-related products that they offer. It's what those at the company feel sets them apart from much of their competition.

The company owner, Rick Latino, says, "We know that people in the Charlotte area have a large selection of HVAC products to choose from. That's why we take our time searching when looking at what HVAC products to carry and then arrange to get ones that have features that take their usefulness and efficiency to a much higher level. We also prefer to supply and install products that come with excellent warranties. Our company knows if we do these things, then it goes a long way toward keeping our customers extremely satisfied with our services for a long time to come. That's something that we always have and always will strive for here at AirWorks Cooling & Heating."

Latino went on to mention two of the newer products that they carry that they feel are a step above what other companies are offering. This includes their American Standard Gold S9V2 gas furnace. A model that was recently featured in ContractingBusiness.com's 2020-2021 High-Efficiency Furnace Guide. It's a two-stage furnace that's rated at 96% AFUE when it comes to the natural gas or propane that it burns. He stated that it's not only a heater that operates very efficiently but it's also one of the quietest running HVAC units that can be found in the home heating marketplace. Additional features include a Vortica® II blower that's considered to be the gold standard when it comes to all-important HVAC system air circulation and an outstanding 20-year warranty. Another newer piece of equipment that AirWorks Cooling & Heating, LLC is excited to offer to their customers is the American Standard AccuClean® air cleaner. A product that will eliminate up to 99.98% of harmful airborne particles that are found in a home.

"We will continue to search for and provide our customers with only the very best HVAC products that can be found for homes and businesses," said Latino.

Their combination of quality work, top-rated products, and superior customer service has also earned them many accolades from those that have used their services. Gus Sundermeier wrote, "The Air Works team was fantastic. Rick's new furnace quote beat all the others that we got and they installed it quickly. I was amazed at how many of his team came out and made it happen so fast and thorough. They also have earned a job at a second home we have that requires a new furnace. I would Use AirWorks anytime and he's a Vet." Danny Pizzuti stated, "The crew at AirWorks is incredible. This includes everyone from the person you talk to on the phone to the crew that comes to do the work. They are all professional, kind, and helpful. No BS, just honest communication and hard work. My system was in bad shape. The team at AirWorks went above my expectations by giving me the highest quality and best working system I've ever had. I will recommend them over and over again!" These two glowing reviews were taken from the companies Google Maps Business Listing where they are rated an exceptional 4.9 out of 5-stars on well over 200 reviews. That's an average service rating that few businesses can match.

The company owner added that they are specialists when it comes to all sorts of HVAC-related services including the installation & repair of ductless systems, installing air quality enhancing equipment, and they provide 24-hour emergency HVAC assistance. AirWorks Cooling & Heating provides their HVAC services to those in Charlotte, Matthews, Huntersville, Ballantyne, Waxhaw, and other Mecklenburg County locations.
