

Anchored Homes Announces Real Estate Solutions for New Jersey Homeowners

March 16, 2021

March 16, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Anchored Homes, based in Egg Harbor Township, New Jersey, was founded in 2016 to provide locals with a full range of real estate solutions. The company purchases homes directly from homeowners with cash offers and sells those homes directly to buyers. Many of the homes that are offered have been renovated and are in move-in ready condition.

John Paul Kilduff II, a spokesperson for the company says, "We are able to assist homeowners with a number of real estate services due to our extensive knowledge of the real estate industry, coupled with our year of experience and our network of resources. We work with each customer one-on-one to ensure that all of their individual and unique needs are met with every transaction."

Kilduff says that the company has the ability to make each transaction quick and easy, creating a fast and hassle-free purchase for each home. The company makes cash offers for homes directly from homeowners to eliminate the need for weeks and possibly months of advertising the property for sale. In addition, Kilduff states that they can help consumers who are looking to purchase a home, as well.

?If we do not have the home that you are looking for,? Kilduff says, ?We can put you in contact with a real estate agent who can help you to find that dream home. We pride ourselves on our offerings, and more often than not, we have exactly what a buyer is seeking; in the right location and at the right price. We thoroughly enjoy helping homeowners along with improving communities.?

Kilduff states that the company is guided by their core values of assisting each customer on an individual level and by putting those customers? needs first, whether they are buying or selling their home. The company focuses on a fast response to each customer, as well as putting the needs of that customer above all else.

The real estate company states that they will make a cash offer on a property based on a number of factors, including the current market value of that property and its overall condition. Kilduff says that these offers are completely transparent, with no hidden fees or costs to the homeowner. He adds that the company can close the sale quickly, in some cases within just a couple of weeks, which can be very helpful to homeowners who may be on a tight schedule for relocation or even those who are having difficulties keeping up with their mortgage payments and who may be looking at a foreclosure in the near future. Selling the home as opposed to having it foreclosed upon can help to protect the homeowner?s credit score and overall credit worthiness to other lenders.

Selling a home today can be difficult, particularly in light of the current pandemic. Kilduff says that their company can help homeowners who need to sell their homes relatively quickly, or those who want to buy a home relatively quickly, because they have the years of experience and the network of resources needed to do so. Whether a homeowner needs to sell due to a death in the family, divorce, relocation, looming foreclosure or any other reason, Kilduff says that his company can help to get that homeowner out from under their property and let them get on with their lives.

Those looking to sell a home anywhere in New Jersey or anyone who may be looking to purchase a new home in New Jersey can visit the company on their official website to get more information about their process and the homes that they currently have available. The company?s social media sites also offer information, and those interested in connected via these sites can visit them on Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, Twitter, or YouTube. Those in need of a home consultation can contact the company directly through their website or via email or phone and contact information is available on the site.
