New SafeAir Certified Mold Inspection Inc. Video Post: "Should I Test For Mold?"

March 12, 2021

March 12, 2021 -
SafeAir Certified Mold Inspection Inc., an Atlanta GA, based mold inspection and testing company, has recently released their latest video post in their series of Frequently Asked Questions. The locally owned company, owned and operated by Jeremy Shelton, an indoor air quality expert, has provided Atlanta with mold inspections for nearly ten years. With decades of experience and the latest equipment, it is no surprise that Atlanta homeowners continue to turn to SafeAir for all of their inspection needs. The video provides an in-depth explanation of the mold testing process. The video and a corresponding blog post can be viewed on the company's website under the blog tab.

When asked for a comment about the post, Shelton had this to say, ?Every house has mold. Period. Deciding whether or not testing is appropriate is something customers call us with every single day. My goal is to help educate Atlanta about indoor air quality, because after all it is their health that is ultimately on the line.?

Homeowners located within Atlanta, Sandy Springs, Roswell, Marietta, and other surrounding Metro Atlanta areas suffering from toxic mold exposure are invited to speak with the SafeAir Mold Testing team to schedule a free consultation.
