Phillip Chambers, a consultant based in Austin, TX, has recently posted content on his website that explains how people can make money online through a side hustle. He believes that most people need to have a side hustle because employees are usually not paid what they are really worth. He defines a side hustle as any money generating activity that is done outside of a person's regular job or career. He advises people who are interested in a particular side hustle to break down the task to its simplest parts and then create a plan on how to do each part. It is also important to learn as much as possible regarding each task.

Phillip Chambers is focused on helping full-time employees establish a second source of income. He says, "Join me and 15,000 other people looking to radically improve their lives with passive income. I've been focusing on helping people build second streams of income. Do you want a real transformation? You've come to the right place."

He has also published an article by that is designed to help people begin a freelance business that can allow them to add $3000 per month to their income in just 60 days. He advises people to consider themselves as an independent contractor or free agent who is no longer tied to any company. This is the reason why he is now dedicating his time to helping people get started in the world of freelancing and the gig economy. He wants to point out that people currently have a great opportunity to establish a freelancing business on the side.
