

Cestari Now Offering Bundled Bee House Discounts

March 31, 2021

LITTLETON, MA - March 31, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cestari, a Massachusetts company, produces a variety of consumer goods, including highly regarded mason bee houses. The bee houses are constructed of FSC certified wood, and include bamboo tubes for the bees to use as nests. Bamboo is the best material to use for mason bee tubes, as it is the most similar to the reeds bees prefer in their natural habitats, and when properly cleaned annually, does not mold or attract mites the way paper or cardboard tubes do. Many gardeners purchase several bee houses to place around their yard. Cestari is now offering bundles of 2 and 3 houses on Amazon, providing an opportunity for customers to save on a bundle. These bee house discounts are automatically built into the bundled price.

Susan MacDowell, a spokesperson for Cestari, says, "Our mason bee houses are one of our more interesting products and they are also quickly becoming a bestseller. What makes this product unique for us is that while many customers buy it to attract bees to their gardens, flower beds, and fruit trees, some just purchase it as a yard decoration because of how good they look. The new bundles great deal for those who would like to have two or three of these in different places in their yards and want some nice savings on their purchase too.?"

MacDowell went on to explain why she thought these bee hotels would continue to be one of their better-selling products. Their various size tubes have the potential to attract over 140 species of bees. Their exterior is made out of 100% all-natural pine wood with bamboo tubes placed in the middle of it. That keeps these bee hotels lightweight yet durable and the bamboo tubes will not harm the wings of the bees that enter them. She says that each bee house is beautifully colored using 100% non-toxic stain too. Its all-natural wood composition makes them eco-friendly when disposing of them and a built-in overhang protects the sheltering bees from wind and inclement weather. The company spokesperson added that this product should last up to 2 seasons and customers don't have to worry if they don't because they are covered by Cestari's no-questions-asked lifetime guarantee.

Those that have purchased this bee house have been very satisfied with it. Here are some best bee house reviews. Verified purchaser GS Vicks stated, "I have lots of flowering plants, so the idea of a bee house was intriguing to me. I love this product! It's pretty and well-made and is a welcome addition to my garden. And, after just a few days, I've seen bees buzzing around it. I definitely would recommend this bee house." Another verified purchaser JB wrote, "The bees 'love' this house! It's a beautiful addition to my garden too. I put it out last spring, and by mid-summer bees were flying in and out, filling the tubes. I particularly like the fact that the tubes are bamboo - not cardboard or drilled wood which can kill bees by destroying their wings. And - it has an overhanging roof to prevent the tubes from being exposed to the weather."

MacDowell added, "We feel that the conservation of bees is vital to our ecosystem, and purchasing products like our bee hotels can help. While bees are under stress, you won't have to be while making this purchase as you take advantage of our bundled discount."
