March 30, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vancouver, BC - Pacific West Roofing & Exteriors upholds its reputation as a leading roofing contractor throughout the Vancouver area.

While 2020 was a hard year for businesses of all shapes and sizes around the world, Pacific West Roofing & Exteriors stayed strong during the COVID-19 pandemic and is heading into 2021 with a very healthy start. Owner Steven Hardy says that while there were certain challenges the company faced as the pandemic gripped the local economy, he is humbled and grateful for the many satisfied clients who helped his company thrive and grow.

"The Vancouver community has rallied around local businesses throughout these uncertain times, and I'm proud of how we have stuck together and are working together to make it to the other side of this," Hardy says. "Thanks to our satisfied clients, we have been able to continue offering the same level of great service we are known for and will continue to expand services to help with as many jobs as our team can take on."

With 24/7 rapid response for emergency situations and a talented, diverse crew with a variety of skills, Pacific West is well-known for handling a wide array of projects that extend far beyond roofing repair and installation. Services include concrete repair, window repair, skylight repair, tarping, exterior stair repair, infrared building inspections, and so much more.

Addressing a roofing or structural problem can be intimidating and overwhelming for a lot of people, especially with the added stresses of living under lockdowns, quarantines, and limited access to funds and services. The team at PWE takes all the worry and stress out of any project, and can give free, up-front quotes to get the process started as quickly as possible. The staff is friendly, and clients who work with them once will likely never want to choose another roofing and exterior contractor again.
