The office is still working tirelessly to provide local communities with the legal support they need, even during the pandemic. ?Despite the challenges we?ve encountered with the pandemic, our team is still doing their utmost to address your legal needs,? says the Amundson Law Office. ?Phone calls and emails are addressed as usual. Mediations and similar meetings will be conducted via videoconferencing via Zoom or other means. Courts are reducing/eliminating in-person contact but are holding hearings via videoconferencing or teleconference, and some hearings are being rescheduled. Please contact us for an update on your hearing. We can also offer guidance if you have questions regarding parenting time when required to distance or about existing child support obligations if either parent has lost their job due to COVID-19. We can try to negotiate a resolution or file a motion, which is imperative to requests for compensatory missed parenting time or to preserve a retroactive change to child support. Stay safe, we will all get through this together.?

Divorce is a complicated matter primarily because of the uncertainty surrounding the process. Often, married couples have to consider finances, the future of their children and how to divide assets that they have accumulated over years of marriage. This makes the process of separating very difficult, not to mention time consuming. With an experienced and effective lawyer like Lisa Amundson by their side, however divorce becomes much less complicated as she can help make the law surrounding divorce and how it applies to any given situation a lot easier to understand. She works closely with her clients to develop a plan that satisfies the needs of everyone involved, from the beginning to the end of the divorce proceedings.

It is important to have a lawyer who focuses on ensuring that their client?s future is secure and takes steps to make certain that every step of the divorce process goes smoothly. It is important to understand the process of divorce when going through one. One must always be aware of where they are in the process and what comes next. Fortunately, the Amundson legal team makes it a point to keep their clients informed through every step of the process.

?Taking the first step is often the most difficult part of the entire divorce process,? says Lisa Amundson. ?While there are hundreds of lawyers to choose from who will take your divorce case, knowing how to select the best fit for your situation can be challenging. That is why the Amundson Law Office offers a free initial consultation to any new client who is facing a divorce or other family law issue.
