Racine Property Services, Inc. is a company that specializes in all types of pressure washing. Not all of their pressure washing jobs are done by using high pressure to blast away dirt and other unsightly surface matter. This includes using low pressure to clean moss and other unwanted substances off of roofs. It?s a service this company has perfected that leaves the roofs they perform it on looking as close to brand new as possible. The many different types of pressure washing that this company does is what has made it the premier choice for these types of services in Lake Oswego, Beaverton, Wilsonville, Portland, West Linn, and Tigard since 1986.

The president of Racine Property Services Inc., Hamid Malik, says, ?One of the most neglected areas on people?s homes as far as maintaining its looks are roofs. That?s a shame because a roof is one of the first things that people see as they approach your home from a distance. That means no matter how good your home?s exterior and landscape look, a dirty or stained roof will significantly take away from those looks. Now that people are starting to realize this, our roof and moss cleaning services keep getting more popular. Anyone who has not had their roof cleaned in a year or more should strongly consider having this service done.?

Malik went on to talk more about how they go about doing their Roof Cleaning and moss removal services. This cannot be done with high-pressure washing because unlike concrete, asphalt, stucco, and brick, extreme pressure washing may damage a roof covering. He stated this is especially true with shingle. So instead, they use impactful, environmental solutions that are applied to a roof?s surface and let sit for a few minutes. The company owner says they will then go to work on moss, dirt, and any other substance that is taking away from a roof?s looks. Once these solutions have done their work, they are then washed away with a very low-pressure rinse.

According to the company owner, roof cleaning will do much more than just increase a home?s curb appeal too. It will also help extend the useful life of any type of roof covering. He added this is especially true for shingles which can quickly deteriorate if growing moss or algae gets deeply embedded in it. Because it will help any roof covering last longer, that means that roof cleaning will also end up saving a homeowner some money. Malik says that why he and his crew are cleaning someone?s roof, it?s also a great time for that customer to ask his crew to clean their gutters for them. Gutters that are full of leaves and other debris will back up during periods of heavy rain. This will cause water to overflow out of the gutters into areas a homeowner does not want it to go or it may saturate the surrounding roof structure and possibly cause it to rot.

The roof cleaning services that this company offers are also very well-reviewed. Abigail Tolchin stated, ?Racine Property Services did an outstanding job helping rid the moss off our roof.
