April 22, 2021

Portage Park, Illinois - April 22, 2021 -
Rocket Plumbing, a company based in Chicago, IL, is proud to announce that their team has attended a Navien Training Class that was sponsored by Black Diamond Plumbing & Mechanical and allows Rocket Plumbing to be recognized as a Navien Service Specialist (NSS) and Navien Approved Installer and Service Provider. Navien is considered a leader in condensing tankless technology and has made a commitment to work with partners such as Rocket Plumbing to offer the best products and installation expertise in the industry.

The training taken by the Rocket Plumbing professionals was focused on Navien?s product line that includes tankless water heaters, condensing combi-boilers, and condensing heating boilers. It was also about helping customers choose the best model for their particular requirements. The Rocket Plumbing professionals are experts in taking into account typically overlooked factors, such as line pressure, ground temperature, and a return line to make sure that the customer will get hot water instantly after turning on the faucet.

Brian McMahon, owner of Rocket Plumbing, has this to say about the Navien training class attended by his professionals, ?We're excited to continue bringing the best technology and innovations to our customers and knowing it will be installed correctly.?

Rocket Plumbing can install and/or repair Navien tankless water heaters, whether condensing or non-condensing. The plumbing industry veterans from the company can readily install the NPE and NPE-2 series of Navien condensing tankless water heaters. These units are designed to replace inefficient tank heaters, thus allowing customers to save on electricity, natural gas, and water. Other advantages include lower maintenance costs, an endless supply of hot water, and longer product life.

Meanwhile, the new NPN series from Navien is the first and only non-condensing tankless water heaters that provide a tough and long-lasting stainless steel heat exchanger, a patented stainless steel burner design, and a choice of outdoor or indoor operation in one unit. Also available for installation by Rocket Plumbing plumbers are the Navien condensing combi-boilers and condensing heating boilers.

The Navien combi-boilers are for customers who want a high-efficiency condensing combination boiler that can supply both heat and domestic hot water for bigger homes, or enough hydronic heat for the whole house, plus hot water for up to three showers and a dishwasher simultaneously. Meanwhile, the Navien heating boilers are suitable for an automated manufacturing environment. They are provided with many suitable features, such as a patented heat exchanger, advanced controls, and flexibility of venting materials and venting configurations.
